Barnett Acts In Defiance Of U.S. Court

Would-Be Student Is Escorted Away After Conference

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi defied orders of federal courts Thursday and refused to admit James H. Meredith, a Negro, as a student at the University of Mississippi.

The Mississippi governor made his defiant decision in a face-to-face meeting of 23 minutes with Meredith, who hopes to be the first person of his race to enroll in Ole Miss in the school's 114-year history.

He said "no" despite a federal court edict that Meredith must be admitted and in the face of a convoy of four men believed to be U.S. marshals.

Gov. Barnett courted a contempt citation from a federal court by the action, taken upon authority given him by the Mississippi College Board a few hours ago.

A week ago the governor told Mississippi in an impassioned speech that he would go to jail rather than integrate a Mississippi school and more than hinted that he would close schools before so doing.

The dramatic meeting of Barnett and Meredith, 29, took place behind the guarded doors of Alumni House on the Ole Miss campus a few minutes after the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in Hattiesburg, Miss., overthrew a new state law that would have barred from the school the Kosciusko, Miss., Negro.

Government Asks Contempt Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department announced Thursday night it would ask immediately for contempt of court citations against three University of Mississippi officials for failing to enroll James H. Meredith as the first Negro student in the all-white insitution.

Edwin O. Guthman, department information official, identified the officials as Chancellor John Davis Williams, Dean Arthur B. Lewis and registrar Robert Byron Ellis.

He indicated the department had decided to ignore the actions in this case of Gov. Ross R. Barnett, who a short time earlier had announced he had assumed enrollment powers at the university and had denied Meredith's application after a 23-minute interview with him.

$1.50 Minimum Pay USW Aim

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — The United Steelworkers Union urged Congress Thursday to raise the minimum wage to $1.50 an hour and to extend coverage of the minimum wage law.

After breezing through dozens of resolutions in less than three hours, the 3,500 delegates to the USW convention adjourned until Friday, when action was expected on internal financial policies.

An officers' report released to the delegates said the powerful union's financial worth had fallen from $27,301,744 to $21,812,076 during the past year. The report said the $5.5 million drop was due to high costs of the union's administration.

Action was expected Friday to bolster the union's finances, and one possibility was an attempt to raise dues. This could meet with stiff objections.

Kennedy Fires '62 Campaign's Opening Round

President Urges Pennsylvanians To Elect Demos

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Kennedy leaped into the 1962 political wars Thursday night with a resounding appeal to Pennsylvania voters to elect Democrats and help prevent a return to what he called deadlock and drift.

This one fact, Kennedy said, is clear beyond dispute: "That this country requires, if it is to move ahead, a progressive Congress—in short a Democratic Congress.

"For more is at stake than what party controls the Congress and the various state governments. The American people on Nov. 6 must choose whether this nation is to sail or anchor down—whether we are to step up the progress already made or return to deadlock and drift."

Kennedy flew up from Washington by helicopter and was politicking busily and zestfully the minute he set foot on the airport cement.

He kept it up on a motorcade through town, between ranks of thousands of cheering, shrieking onlookers, and in a speech prepared for delivery at a Democratic fund-raising rally in the state farm show arena.

This was the President's opening shot of the 1962 campaign—and he let it be known there would be plenty more.

Pennsylvania Democrats expected to raise better than a million dollars from the mammoth $100-a-plate dinner in the state's sprawling farm exhibition buildings. The event was the official kickoff of the fall election campaign.

"This is the beginning of a long and important campaign," he told the throng that welcomed him at the airport.

The President seemed to be itching to get back into active campaigning.

"Eighteen months ago," he recalled with a smile, "I used to do this six times a day, but I haven't done it for a long time, and we start today, and most appropriately in Pennsylvania, on the fall campaign for 1962."

Three Estes Associates Get Prison Terms

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Three associates of Billie Sol Estes were sentenced to federal prison terms Thursday for mail fraud and conspiracy in connection with Estes' widespread operations.

Sentenced to terms of six to 10 years were Harold E. Orr, 31, and Ruel W. Alexander, 36, of Amarillo, Tex., and Coleman McSpadden 45, of Lubbock, Tex. All were officials of Superior Manufacturing Co. of Amarillo.

U.S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thomason said the men were guilty of one of the "most premeditated, fantastic and ruthless frauds" ever to come before his court.

All three had previously pleaded guilty to five counts of a 29-count indictment, which also named Estes. Estes pleaded innocent to all 29 and awaits trial. Orr, Alexander and McSpadden pleaded innocent to 24 counts.

McSpadden and Orr were sentenced to 10 years on each of two counts of interstate transportation of securities obtained by fraud; 10 years on one count of conspiracy to execute a scheme to defraud and transport in interstate commerce securities taken by fraud; and 5 years on two counts of mail fraud.

This made a total of 35 years, but Judge Thomason ordered the sentences to run concurrently, meaning a maximum prison time for McSpadden and Orr of 10 years.

Alexander received three five-year sentences and two six-year sentences. He would serve a maximum of six years under the judge's order.

Reds Shoot Dogs At Berlin Border

BERLIN (AP)—Two dogs were shot Thursday by East German guards on the border between East Germany and West Berlin, police reported.

The dogs were a West Berlin dachshund and a German shepherd.

Both had ventured near the barbed wire fortifications at the southern fringe of the suburb of Rudow. Both were badly wounded.

The dachshund crept through the barbed wire into East Germany, where West police saw Eastern guards kill it with a spade.

The German shepherd limped back into West Berlin. It was so badly hit, West police had to shoot it.

House Passes Aid Funds Bill Slashed $1.4 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ignoring an 11th hour plea from President Kennedy, a rebellious House passed Thursday night a foreign-aid funds bill slashed a whopping $1.4 billion below White House requests.

The roll-call vote was 249-144 to trim funds to $5.9 billion, against the President's request for $7.3 billion.

Voting for the bill were 174 Democrats and 75 Republicans. Voting against were 61 Democrats and 83 Republicans.

The House also shouted through three amendments aimed at cutting off funds for any country which allows its ships to be used to carry goods of any kind to Cuba.

Passage came after the leadership, sensing sentiment for even deeper cuts in the $5,956,852,000 measure, decided against risking a floor fight to override the recommendations of its Appropriations Committee.

In the general debate, not a single voice was raised to support the President's contention of Wednesday night that the cut made by Chairman Otto E. Passman's Foreign Appropriations subcommittee was an irresponsible action that "poses a threat to free-world security."

The leadership pinned its hopes for restoration of some portion of economic and military aid funds on the Senate and whatever compromise can be reached in the eventual conference between the two bodies.

The House leadership made no effort even to get standing votes on the Cuban amendments.

U. N. Plane Apparently Shot Down

Aircraft With 10 Swedes Aboard Crashes In Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — A United Nations C47 plane with 10 Swedish airmen aboard crashed in the Congo Thursday and an official spokesman said it "probably was shot down" by gunfire of undetermined origin.

U. N. officials ordered search planes out Friday with orders to fire on any suspicious movements in the area where U.N. troops and gendarmerie of secessionist President Moise Tshombe of Katanga have battled in the past.

Not Known If Any Survivors

It was not known if there were any survivors. The Swedes were carrying out a military reconnaissance flight at the time to check Katangese charges that hordes of central government troops had invaded the province and were driving on Elisabethville.

A U.N. spokesman here said cautiously the plane "may have been shot down by gunfire of undetermined origin." The Swedish foreign office in Stockholm said the plane "probably was shot down."

The incident came just a year and two days after U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and 15 companions were killed in a plane crash near Ndola, Northern Rhodesia, while on a mission seeking peace in the Congo.

Copters To Hunt Wreckage

Nightfall in the Congo prevented any immediate search or rescue operations for the crashed Swedish plane. But the U.N. command ordered helicopters out at dawn Friday with fighter cover to look for the wreckage.

Reports reaching U.N. headquarters in New York said the plane went down at the village of Kamunga, 31 miles northwest of the town of Kabongo on the frontier between Kasai and Katanga provinces.

Robert K. A. Gardine, top U.N. official in the Congo, ordered the central Congolese government and Moise Tshombe's secessionist Katanga regime to bar all military movements in the area.

House Passes New Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — By a razor-thin five-vote margin, the House approved Thursday a compromise farm bill that would give President Kennedy some of the tools he says are necessary to control grain surpluses.

The 202-197 vote was a reversal of the 10-vote beating the House gave the original administration farm bill in June. The compromise now goes to the Senate, which may act next week. If the Senate approves as expected it will go to the President for signature.

Republicans argued bitterly against the new version and all but two of them lined up against it. Thirty - seven Democrats, many, but not all from the South, joined Republicans in voting against it.

The bill provides a combination of payments to wheat and feed grain growers who voluntarily reduce their acreage in 1963. The payments would include a direct or compensatory payment of 18 cents a bushel for wheat and feed grains. This makes up the difference between a lower federal price support and the present subsidy level.

Only farmers who cooperate get the direct payments, providing an incentive to join the plan.

Ambassador Kohler Arrives In Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI) — Foy D. Kohler, new U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union and an expert on Berlin, arrived in Moscow Thursday and pledged that the United States seeks only "peace and justice" in the world.

Kohler, 54, told newsmen upon arriving at Moscow's Sheremetyevo Airport.

"I hope to communicate clearly the policies of the U.S. government and the will of the American people for peace and justice to the Soviet Union."

Adlai Demands U. N. Require Sharing Costs

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Adlai E. Stevenson demanded Thursday that the General Assembly act to compel members to share all costs and keep the United Nations from acting like "a beggar in the street."

The chief U.S. delegate made the request in a major policy speech in which a reference to Cuba touched off a fiery response from its U.N. representative.

In a review of the world situation that opened his speech, Stevenson charged that the Cuban government "with a moral and material support from outside, carries on a campaign of subversion and vituperation against its neighbors in the Western Hemisphere."

Mario Garcia-Inchaustegui, the chief spokesman here for Fidel Castro's regime, strode to the rostrum to exercise his rights of reply.

He declared that the United States in an atmosphere "of general hysteria" was planning aggression against Cuba. "Tell your generals," he added, "that more than six million Cubans will defend with more than sweet words the charter of the United Nations."

Stevenson made no reply in the assembly. A spokesman for the U.S. delegation said of the Cuban charge: "It's hardly worth any comment."

Andrei A. Gromyko, the Soviet foreign minister, applauded the Cuban vigorously. This was in contrast to his reaction to the Stevenson speech. Gromyko listened impassively to Stevenson, and did not join in the resounding applause at the end from most members outside the Soviet bloc. It will be Gromyko's turn to speak Friday.

Stevenson began his speech by pointing to trouble spots in "a dark and precarious world."

He said pressures and harassments against West Berlin "continue to rank as a most ominious threat to the peace of the world."

He asserted that peace in Southeast Asia is menaced by "illegal support across frontiers for an armed insurrection in Southeast Asia," he said the Chinese Communists "continue their policy of provocation, their acts of force and subversion."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—One production worker reported for work at the struck Westinghouse Corp. appliance plant Thursday—by parachute.

Nininger, who belongs to a sport parachute club, said he wants to work and used the parachute "just to be different."

Algeria Voters Back Ben Bella

ALGIERS (AP)—A substantial majority of Algerian voters Thursday approved Ahmed Ben Bella's 196 unopposed candidates for Algeria's first National Assembly.

The massive turnout in the "yes only" election was a clear endorsement for the strong man and the political bureau he expects to bring stability to the troubled nation.

Official results were not yet available. Two hours before the polls closed, preliminary figures showed that at least 60 per cent of registered voters cast their ballot for Ben Bella's list.

The only way to register opposition to Ben Bella was to abstain from voting or spoil ballots.

Men and women stood in line for hours outside polling stations in predominantly Moslem districts. Closing of the polls had to be put back by two hours as officials were unable to keep up with the rush.

In the European districts of Algiers, voting picked up after a slow start. By late afternoon, Europeans also stood in line waiting to vote.

Rebels Lose Three Tanks In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A rebel tank column rumbling toward Buenos Aires clashed with government artillery forces Thursday near La Plata in the first bloodshed of Argentina's newest crisis.

The loyal military command in Buenos Aires said three rebel tanks were destroyed in the artillery bombardment of about 50 Sherman tanks in a suburb of La Plata, about 50 road miles from here.

But the newspaper El Dia of La Plata reported by telephone to Buenos Aires that it had learned the tank column broke through the artillery barrage on its move toward this capital. The newspaper added that several casualties had been taken to La Plata's Italian Hospital which the rebels had converted into a field hospital.

It was not known whether the tank column had been under orders to enter the federal capital or to reinforce the powerful mechanized cavalry-led rebel headquarters of Gen. Juan Carlos Ongania at Campo de Mayo outside Buenos Aires.

First announcement of the first major battle of the rebellion came from Col. Roberto Guerin at headquarters of the government's repression command here. It said the attack on the tank column was made at the La Plata suburb of Olmos on the road to Buenos Aires.

The clash came shortly after Ongania rejected a truce appeal from President Jose Maria Guido. The two had talked together at the presidential residence in the Buenos Aires suburb of Olivos earlier in the afternoon.

JFK Asks More Sharing Of Free World Burdens

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy gave European financial leaders a pointed yet diplomatically worded personal warning Thursday that they must do more to finance free-world defense and development.

Addressing the annual meeting of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund, Kennedy coupled this with a statement that "speculation against the dollar is losing its allure" — to the point where "no extreme or restrictive measures are needed."

The President's expression of confidence in the current monetary situation echoed recent statements of many American and foreign finance ministers and central bankers attending the week-long sessions.

But, in calling for a greater sharing of aid and defense burdens, Kennedy stated the proposition in terms more blunt than he has used in the past.

He reminded Europeans, for example, that they received $26 billion of U.S. economic aid during the postwar years—out of total overseas defense and aid outlays of $88 billion.

The United States as a result no longr has a disproportionate share of the free world's gold, economic strength — or economic responsibility," he said.

Kennedy reminded his audience also that the United States could solve its balance-of-payments problem overnight by withdrawing troops stationed abroad, cutting foreign aid, raising tariff barriers, and retreating into isolation.

He added, however, that, "The basic strength of the dollar makes such actions as unnecessary as they are unwise."

Use Of Force If Necessary Voted 86 To 1

Russian Military Buildup On Castro Island Stepped Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted Thursday to serve clear notice on the Kremlin that the United States will fight to prevent Cuba from being turned into a military threat to any of its neighbors.

A resolution warning that any aggressive buildup "could have the gravest possible consequences" was adopted by a vote of 86-1 after a three-hour debate.

The lone negative vote was cast by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., who said the resolution does not go far enough.

All of the 13 absent senators were announced officially as favoring the resolution.

The policy declaration was drafted by leaders of both political parties and is intended as an expression of U.S. determination and solidarity by Congress and President Kennedy.

House Debate Scheduled

The House Foreign Affairs Committee approved a companion resolution and leaders scheduled it for floor debate Friday. Some members were pressing for tougher language, however, and this may delay until next week its journey to the White House for Kennedy's signature.

Punctuating the congressional action was a report indicating a substantial increase in Soviet shipments to Cuba in the past month. U.S. officials said that since late July the Soviets have delivered between 65 and 75 shiploads to Cuban ports, divided perhaps about evenly between military equipment and personnel, and general cargoes consisting of food and industrial supplies.

The officials said the latest U.S. government estimate of the number of Soviet personnel in Cuba is 4,200. They said the growing military buildup in Cuba is still regarded by the Kennedy Administration as defensive in nature, however, and presents no serious threat to this country.

Sparkman Urges Unanimity

Some other Republicans, including Sens. Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska and Jack Miller of Iowa, protested that the resolution is not strong enough but they did not join Prouty in voting against it.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., acting chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, appealed for a show of unanimity. He urged that members having doubts as to whether the resolution goes too far or not far enough "resolve their doubts in favor of speaking with one voice."

The action came as the Havana radio broadcast a pledge by Red China to support Cuba in its "fight against the aggression of North American imperialism."

The Communist Chinese note, Havana radio said, included a denunciation of "the Yankee preparations for an invasion of Cuba."

In its two key paragraphs the congressional resolution puts the U.S. government on record as being determined—

1. "To prevent by whatever means may be necessary, including the use of arms, the Marxist-Leninist regime in Cuba from extending by force or threat of force its aggressive or subversive activities to any part of this hemisphere.

2. "To prevent in Cuba the creation or use of an externally supported military capability endangering the security of the United States."

It further resolves to work with Latin-American nations and with freedom-loving Cubans to "sup-

Russ Make No Move To Stop U.S. Convoys

BERLIN (UPI)—The U.S. Army rolled four troop convoys in 107 vehicles over the superhighway through East Germany Wednesday in a pointed new demonstration of Allied rights of access to isolated Berlin. The Russians made no move to stop them.

A total of 398 soldiers moved to or from West Berlin Thursday in the latest phase of an operation switching two 1,500-man U.S. battle groups. A new convoy is scheduled for Friday.

Unlike Wednesday, when the Russians held up one convoy for more than three hours, Thursday's groups were passed through checkpoints on the highway without any abnormal delay, a U.S. Army spokesman said.

The bill provides a combination of payments to wheat and feed grain growers who voluntarily reduce their acreage in 1963. The payments would include a direct or compensatory payment of 18 cents a bushel for wheat and feed grains. This makes up the difference between a lower federal price support and the present subsidy level.

Only farmers who cooperate get the direct payments, providing an incentive to join the plan.

Ambassador Kohler Arrives In Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI) — Foy D. Kohler, new U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union and an expert on Berlin, arrived in Moscow Thursday and pledged that the United States seeks only "peace and justice" in the world.

Kohler, 54, told newsmen upon arriving at Moscow's Sheremetyevo Airport.

"I hope to communicate clearly the policies of the U.S. government and the will of the American people for peace and justice to the Soviet Union."

Adlai Demands U. N. Require Sharing Costs

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Adlai E. Stevenson demanded Thursday that the General Assembly act to compel members to share all costs and keep the United Nations from acting like "a beggar in the street."

The chief U.S. delegate made the request in a major policy speech in which a reference to Cuba touched off a fiery response from its U.N. representative.

In a review of the world situation that opened his speech, Stevenson charged that the Cuban government "with a moral and material support from outside, carries on a campaign of subversion and vituperation against its neighbors in the Western Hemisphere."

Mario Garcia-Inchaustegui, the chief spokesman here for Fidel Castro's regime, strode to the rostrum to exercise his rights of reply.

He declared that the United States in an atmosphere "of general hysteria" was planning aggression against Cuba. "Tell your generals," he added, "that more than six million Cubans will defend with more than sweet words the charter of the United Nations."

Stevenson made no reply in the assembly. A spokesman for the U.S. delegation said of the Cuban charge: "It's hardly worth any comment."

Andrei A. Gromyko, the Soviet foreign minister, applauded the Cuban vigorously. This was in contrast to his reaction to the Stevenson speech. Gromyko listened impassively to Stevenson, and did not join in the resounding applause at the end from most members outside the Soviet bloc. It will be Gromyko's turn to speak Friday.

Stevenson began his speech by pointing to trouble spots in "a dark and precarious world."

He said pressures and harassments against West Berlin "continue to rank as a most ominious threat to the peace of the world."

He asserted that peace in Southeast Asia is menaced by "illegal support across frontiers for an armed insurrection in Southeast Asia," he said the Chinese Communists "continue their policy of provocation, their acts of force and subversion."

Worker 'Chutes Past Picket Line

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—One production worker reported for work at the struck Westinghouse Corp. appliance plant Thursday—by parachute.

Paul Nininger, 25, of Columbus, floated down into a cluster of small trees about 50 feet from the main entrance of the big plant.

Nininger, who belongs to a sport parachute club, said he wants to work and used the parachute "just to be different."

Algeria Voters Back Ben Bella

ALGIERS (AP)—A substantial majority of Algerian voters Thursday approved Ahmed Ben Bella's 196 unopposed candidates for Algeria's first National Assembly.

The massive turnout in the "yes only" election was a clear endorsement for the strong man and the political bureau he expects to bring stability to the troubled nation.

Official results were not yet available. Two hours before the polls closed, preliminary figures showed that at least 60 per cent of registered voters cast their ballot for Ben Bella's list.

The only way to register opposition to Ben Bella was to abstain from voting or spoil ballots.

Men and women stood in line for hours outside polling stations in predominantly Moslem districts. Closing of the polls had to be put back by two hours as officials were unable to keep up with the rush.

In the European districts of Algiers, voting picked up after a slow start. By late afternoon, Europeans also stood in line waiting to vote.

Rebels Lose Three Tanks In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A rebel tank column rumbling toward Buenos Aires clashed with government artillery forces Thursday near La Plata in the first bloodshed of Argentina's newest crisis.

The loyal military command in Buenos Aires said three rebel tanks were destroyed in the artillery bombardment of about 50 Sherman tanks in a suburb of La Plata, about 50 road miles from here.

But the newspaper El Dia of La Plata reported by telephone to Buenos Aires that it had learned the tank column broke through the artillery barrage on its move toward this capital. The newspaper added that several casualties had been taken to La Plata's Italian Hospital which the rebels had converted into a field hospital.

It was not known whether the tank column had been under orders to enter the federal capital or to reinforce the powerful mechanized cavalry-led rebel headquarters of Gen. Juan Carlos Ongania at Campo de Mayo outside Buenos Aires.

First announcement of the first major battle of the rebellion came from Col. Roberto Guerin at headquarters of the government's repression command here. It said the attack on the tank column was made at the La Plata suburb of Olmos on the road to Buenos Aires.

The clash came shortly after Ongania rejected a truce appeal from President Jose Maria Guido. The two had talked together at the presidential residence in the Buenos Aires suburb of Olivos earlier in the afternoon.

JFK Asks More Sharing Of Free World Burdens

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy gave European financial leaders a pointed yet diplomatically worded personal warning Thursday that they must do more to finance free-world defense and development.

Addressing the annual meeting of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund, Kennedy coupled this with a statement that "speculation against the dollar is losing its allure" — to the point where "no extreme or restrictive measures are needed."

The President's expression of confidence in the current monetary situation echoed recent statements of many American and foreign finance ministers and central bankers attending the week-long sessions.

But, in calling for a greater sharing of aid and defense burdens, Kennedy stated the proposition in terms more blunt than he has used in the past.

He reminded Europeans, for example, that they received $26 billion of U.S. economic aid during the postwar years—out of total overseas defense and aid outlays of $88 billion.

The United States as a result no longr has a disproportionate share of the free world's gold, economic strength — or economic responsibility," he said.

Kennedy reminded his audience also that the United States could solve its balance-of-payments problem overnight by withdrawing troops stationed abroad, cutting foreign aid, raising tariff barriers, and retreating into isolation.

He added, however, that, "The basic strength of the dollar makes such actions as unnecessary as they are unwise."

Use Of Force If Necessary Voted 86 To 1

Russian Military Buildup On Castro Island Stepped Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted Thursday to serve clear notice on the Kremlin that the United States will fight to prevent Cuba from being turned into a military threat to any of its neighbors.

A resolution warning that any aggressive buildup "could have the gravest possible consequences" was adopted by a vote of 86-1 after a three-hour debate.

The lone negative vote was cast by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., who said the resolution does not go far enough.

All of the 13 absent senators were announced officially as favoring the resolution.

The policy declaration was drafted by leaders of both political parties and is intended as an expression of U.S. determination and solidarity by Congress and President Kennedy.

House Debate Scheduled

The House Foreign Affairs Committee approved a companion resolution and leaders scheduled it for floor debate Friday. Some members were pressing for tougher language, however, and this may delay until next week its journey to the White House for Kennedy's signature.

Punctuating the congressional action was a report indicating a substantial increase in Soviet shipments to Cuba in the past month. U.S. officials said that since late July the Soviets have delivered between 65 and 75 shiploads to Cuban ports, divided perhaps about evenly between military equipment and personnel, and general cargoes consisting of food and industrial supplies.

The officials said the latest U.S. government estimate of the number of Soviet personnel in Cuba is 4,200. They said the growing military buildup in Cuba is still regarded by the Kennedy Administration as defensive in nature, however, and presents no serious threat to this country.

Sparkman Urges Unanimity

Some other Republicans, including Sens. Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska and Jack Miller of Iowa, protested that the resolution is not strong enough but they did not join Prouty in voting against it.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., acting chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, appealed for a show of unanimity. He urged that members having doubts as to whether the resolution goes too far or not far enough "resolve their doubts in favor of speaking with one voice."

The action came as the Havana radio broadcast a pledge by Red China to support Cuba in its "fight against the aggression of North American imperialism."

The Communist Chinese note, Havana radio said, included a denunciation of "the Yankee preparations for an invasion of Cuba."

In its two key paragraphs the congressional resolution puts the U.S. government on record as being determined—

1. "To prevent by whatever means may be necessary, including the use of arms, the Marxist-Leninist regime in Cuba from extending by force or threat of force its aggressive or subversive activities to any part of this hemisphere.

2. "To prevent in Cuba the creation or use of an externally supported military capability endangering the security of the United States."

It further resolves to work with Latin-American nations and with freedom-loving Cubans to "sup-

Russ Make No Move To Stop U.S. Convoys

BERLIN (UPI)—The U.S. Army rolled four troop convoys in 107 vehicles over the superhighway through East Germany Wednesday in a pointed new demonstration of Allied rights of access to isolated Berlin. The Russians made no move to stop them.

A total of 398 soldiers moved to or from West Berlin Thursday in the latest phase of an operation switching two 1,500-man U.S. battle groups. A new convoy is scheduled for Friday.

Unlike Wednesday, when the Russians held up one convoy for more than three hours, Thursday's groups were passed through checkpoints on the highway without any abnormal delay, a U.S. Army spokesman said.

Compromise $2.3 Billion College Aid Bill Turned Down 214 To 186 By House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Thursday voted down a compromise $2.3 billion college aid bill, apparently killing the last vestige of President Kennedy's education program this year.

The action came on a roll call vote of 214 to 186 that sent the higher education bill back to a House-Senate conference committee.

Because of wide disagreement over student loans and grants, there appeared to be no chance of a new compromise acceptable to both chambers.

The House manager of the bill, Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., admitted this seems to be the case. "I think it's dead," she said following the vote.

In its vote, the House instructed its negotiators to demand elimination of a $600 million student loan grant program. This included up to $120 million in direct grants for needy, talented students.

The Senate originally approved a much broader direct scholarship program and was believed unwilling to accept a bill without some form of student assistance.

Eighty-four Democrats, most of them Southerners, teamed with 130 Republicans in what amounted to the death knell for the bill this session. The motion to send the measure back to conference was opposed by 156 Democrats and 30 Republicans.

Although the student aid plan was the main rock on which the compromise bill foundered, the religious issue that has swirled around construction provisions of the measure apparently also was crucial.

Supporters pleaded with House members to disregard a surge of opposition from some education and church groups. The bill's backers said direct federal grants to private and church - related schools had been in effect for years and would not be new in this bill.

The House passed its version of college aid last winter, with construction funds only. Republican Leader Charles Halleck, Ind., said he would support such a measure again. But Halleck and a number of other Republicans opposed addition of a student aid provision.

Strong House opposition to the President's scholarship program had been so apparent that school aid backers did not even try to write it into the original House version last winter.

The construction aid section included $900 million in matching grants to public, private and church-connected schools to build libraries and classrooms for science and engineering.

Other construction aid included $250 million in matching grants for two-year public junior colleges and $600 million low-interest loans for all colleges for many types of construction.

392 Voters 'Missing' From Pollack Precinct

BALTIMORE (AP)—A canvass by the election board Thursday indicated 392 voters listed on the registration rolls in the home precinct of Democratic boss Jack Pollack apparently have moved from the area.

The total represented 28 per cent of the 1,396 voters registered in the precinct.

Election board president Thomas D'Alesandro III ordered that warning notices be sent to the 392 voters. He said they would be instructed to remove their names from the precinct's registration rolls or prove they still lived there—within two weeks.

Tawes Issues Appeal As Auto Deaths Soar

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. Tawes deplored Thursday night the rising death toll on Maryland highways and pleaded with motorists to show more individual responsibility for traffic safety.

"I have a strong conviction that the problem of safety could be licked if somehow we could convey the idea to everyone that he has a personal responsibility for the safety of his own life and that of his fellow man," Tawes told an annual governor's conference on safety and health.

"It is such a simple truism, and yet it is a point that is hard to make stick in the minds of too many people.

"We cannot over-emphasize the importance of individual responsibility for accidents in our overall program of traffic safety. The prevention of accidents begins with the individual exercising his instinct for survival."

Tawes said it was "painful and disheartening" for him to stand before the conference and report the state's traffic death toll has shown an "alarming increase" this year.

He said five drivers, five passengers and four pedestrians were killed last week to raise the total for the year to 399. It was 101 more than for the same period last year.

The governor said the weekly State Police report received by his office showed that alcohol was a contributing factor in five of the deaths, speed in eight and driver error in 11.

"Can't we, as enlightened and civilized people, find the measure or the means to halt this useless carnage?" he asked.

Paper Firms Plead Innocent To 'Fixing'

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Six major paper companies pleaded innocent in U.S. District Court Thursday to criminal charges of price fixing under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act and the case was delayed until Jan. 7.

In a brief arraignment proceeding before U.S. District Judge Patrick T. Stone, all of the firms entered pleas to charges filed by the Justice Department alleging the companies conspired since 1953 to fix prices of pulpwood in order to avoid and minimize price changes.

The delay until Jan. 7 came on a motion by Joseph O'Malley of Washington, D.C., a trial attorney for the anti-trust division of the Justice Department.

The six are Consolidated Papers Inc., of Wisconsin Rapids; American Can Co., New York City; Mosinee Paper Mill Co.; Nekoosa-Edwards Paper Co., Port Edwards; St. Regis Paper Co., New York City, and Wausau (Wis.) Paper Mills Co.

Finan Visits Bob Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan of Maryland visited Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy Thursday in his Justice Department office.

Finan was accompanied by Joseph A. Curnane, who coordinated the John F. Kennedy presidential primary campaign in Maryland two years ago. Curnane is now comptroller of customs in Boston.

Both said they discussed only general matters with Kennedy.

Finan, a leader of the Maryland Democratic Party, declined to say whether he had asked Kennedy about Maryland patronage matters. The state party organization has experienced some difficulty in deciding on three federal appointments there—U.S. marshall, collector of customs, and comptroller of customs.

the court had ordered all Mississippi officials not to 1. interfere with Meredith's admission to Ole Miss under previous court orders; 2. to try to arrest Meredith under his conviction on voter registration fraud charges, or 3. to put into effect an order by Jones County, Miss., Chancery Court which would bar Meredith from the state university.

About the same time, Barnett held a telephone conversation with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy in Washington. While the conversation remained courteous, a Justice Department spokesman said, neither man retreated.

Earlier, Kennedy said: "We are going to make sure that the court orders are followed."

His defiance made, Barnett left Alumni House to the cheers of a comparatively small crowd of students and the curious—a crowd which booed Meredith a few minutes earlier when he left by auto in the direction of the university administration building.

As Barnett walked from the building, a newsman asked: "Governor, do you have any statement to make?"

Barnett said: "The only statement I have to make is that the application of James Meredith has been denied."

The resolution was described by Secretary of State Dean Rusk as "a signal to Moscow."

Its adoption followed disclosure that Rusk told a closed session of senators Monday that the United States is conducting a close surveillance of the Caribbean area and, "we intend to enforce the right to conduct such a surveillance."

"This itself could lead to certain incidents which would involve the use of the armed forces of the United States," Rusk said.

The State Department chief also said American forces would be used to intercept any attempt by the Cubans or Russians in Cuba to move arms or armed forces into other Latin-American countries.

Dictator, Suppression, Taxes Make Haiti Poorest Nation In Hemisphere

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) —The buildings tell the story of Haiti in a nutshell.

The presidential palace is magnificient. The newly constructed police barracks and a five-story building under construction to house tax offices are the next best buildings in town.

That's the story — the dictator, the suppression and the taxes.

Once Haiti was France's richest colony. Its Negro slaves revolted in 1804. Today the Negro republic is probably the poorest nation in the Western Hemisphere.

In this country of four million, a peasant often buys salt by the spoonful. He may bring his rice bowl to the market place and buy a dab of tomato sauce ladled directly from the can. There is a terrible sense of immediacy, of living from hand to mouth.

The Haitian peasant, who labbors long and hard for next to nothing, has a saying: "If work was good, the rich would have taken all of it."

Yet there is enormous eagerness among the people, 90 per cent illiterate, to educate their children. On the books, education is free all the way up through the university, but few get educated.

In some respects the little nation—about the area of Maryland and with the greatest population density in Latin America—is the reverse of other hemisphere problems. It is a bit of Africa transplanted to the West. The people speak Creole, their own brand of French.

Elsewhere in the hemisphere, Washington is concerned about military dictators' seizure of governments. In Haiti, a civilian dictator, Dr. Francois Duvalier, is on the point of ruining his own army by vesting authority in an armed civilian militia.

In other countries, the United States often is accused of trying to interfere in internal affairs. In Haiti, Duvalier has tried to involve the United States in internal affairs, and has even tried to persuade Washington to accept a naval base on the island's northwest tip.

In other countries, a big problem is the flight of capital. In Haiti, it's the flight of talent. Those who are educated find no outlets for talents. Doctors, teachers and other professional people go abroad. Today in Haiti there is only one doctor for 10,000 persons. There are not nearly enough teachers to staff what classrooms exist.

The United States long has been trying to help Haiti. U.S. Marines occupied the country from 1915, a moment of turmoil, until 1934, and left behind schools, hospitals, public works and considerable goodwill.

Economic aid dates to the 1940s. Since 1957 aid has totalled about $60 million, including $9 million in outright cash gifts.

Cresap Chapter DAR Aids American Indians

The need for complete scholarships for American Indians was stressed at the fall state chairman meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. Jack Towler reports. She represented Cresap Chapter at the meeting held in Chestertown American Legion home Monday.

Cresap Chapter contributes towards a musical scholarship for Indians, alternately to St. Mary's College and Bacone College. This year's donation goes to Bacone College, Bacone, Okla., the only accredited Indian college in the world, she said.

At the meeting Maryland received the first award for new memberships and second for magazine advertising. It was announced that "Accent on Youth and Education" will be the theme for the year, and the slogan, "Prove All Things, Hold Fast that which Is Good." General reports were given and plans for the year outlined. Approximately 200 attended.

Mrs. Eliot C. Lovett, Chevy Chase, state regent; and Mrs. Charles F. Reiter, Washington, state genealogical research chairman, will be guests at the annual fall luncheon of Cresap Chapter. It will be held at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club October 10. Mrs. R. Finley Thompson will preside.

Society Donates

Besides new articles of clothing for a boy and girl, the Women's Society of Christian Service of Melvin church will collect good used clothing and assemble sewing bags for the World Community Day collection for Asia. Mrs. Helen Northcraft explained how to assemble the sewing kits.

Mrs. Vincent DelaGrange conducted the business session. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Blanche Speir and Mrs. Millie Alderton. There was a moment of silence in memory of Miss Lillie Rockwell, former district secretary of missionery education. Mrs. Nellie Miller distributed clippers to officers and Mrs. Mary Zais announced a study class on Asia to begin October 11.

A "Fellowship of Intercession" was announced by Mrs. Robert Street. It will be observed at the prayer group meeting. She also announced the seminar at LaVale, September 25. Mrs. Mary Yankie announced the pilgrimage to Asbury Home, September 27. The group decided to send $10 for linens and give $10 to Baltimore East Parish. Mrs. Dorothy Harper announced an invitation to attend the open house at Methodist Children's Home, at Rockdale, October 6. Mrs. Virginia Golden reported 59 cards sent and 30 calls made on sick and shut-ins. Mrs. Dorothy McDonald announced UNICEF party for October 26.

Plans were made for a soup and pie sale September 27 and a turkey dinner November 9, proceeds are for the expansion fund. A mission program was given by Mrs. Miller, who also offered prayer. Mrs. Street read the Scripture. A playlet was presented by Mrs. Nellie Koerner, Mrs. Speir, Mrs. Mary Zais and Miss Dorothy Streett. During the social hour, refreshments were served by Mrs. Opal Cooper and Mrs. Koerner.

Federation Program Outlined

The aims and ideas for the coming two years were outlined by Mrs. Albert D. Heacox, president of the First District, at the luncheon meeting of the Woman's Civic Club, yesterday at the Cumberland Country Club. The theme, "Strengthen the Art of Living," includes three projects, the nation-wide Shell Oil contest furthering advancement of education for worthy students; participating in the building the Salk Foundation Hospital; and raising funds for the National Cultural Center in Washington. Mrs. Heacox also urged the support of the literacy program through CARE; and reported on the national convention she attended in Washington in June.

Mrs. Benjamin R. Lewis Jr. presided and introduced her chairmen and co-chairmen. Honor guests were Mrs. John P. Kaufman, Pikesville, state president of the GFWC; Mrs. Heacox, Mrs. Arthur Crum, First District vice president and Mrs. Leslie J. Clark, president of the Junior Woman's Civic Club. Speaking briefly, Mrs. Kaufman stressed the value of the individual in the club, pointing out the help they give, not the help they hope to receive is important to carry the club load. She said that throughout the history of the federation, in one sentence, a meeting is "unity in diversity."

The entertainment was three selections by Mrs. John Zornig, soloist, with Mrs. Samuel Weatherholt at the piano. The first was from Carmen, the next from the American opera, "Vanessa," and the other from "West Side Story."

New members were introduced by Mrs. John MacVeigh. They are Mrs. James Akerley, Mrs. Harold W. Beisemeier, Mrs. William Bruce, Mrs. Carl Daum, Mrs. Raymond Lapp, Jr., Mrs. Buford Saville, Mrs. Robert Stover, Mrs. John Wagner, Mrs. C. Fannon Webreck, Mrs. John A. Weissenfluh, Mrs. W. Randolph Keefe, Mrs. Howard Vandegrift, Mrs. Joseph A. Ragione, Mrs. Edward DeButts, Mrs. Sydney Green and Mrs. James P. Aaron, Jr. Twenty women attended.

She said that throughout the history of the federation, in one sentence, a meeting is "unity in diversity."

The entertainment was three selections by Mrs. John Zornig, soloist, with Mrs. Samuel Weatherholt at the piano. The first was from Carmen, the next from the American opera, "Vanessa," and the other from "West Side Story."

New members were introduced by Mrs. John MacVeigh. They are Mrs. James Akerley, Mrs. Harold W. Even when you're working around the house, give yourself a skin treatment.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Skin Needs Coddling — And Plenty Of It

If you have dry skin, it needs coddling — and you can't start too young. A skin that is lusterless, quick to wrinkle, sometimes flakes or irritates easily can usually be identified as dry. It may result from poor circulation, careless exposure to sun and wind, or even poor diet and a nervous run-down physical condition. There's a weakness in the sebaceous glands, which makes it difficult for them to secrete the necessary amount of oil.

What to do? First you'll have to concentrate on skin lubricants. But, that doesn't mean neglect soap and water for true cleanliness. Wash your face, neck, and well behind your ears once a day. Use a super-fatted or lanolin-based complexion soap and only your own two hands to lather up. Rinse well with lukewarm water. Finish off with a dry-skin lotion. Don't use an astringent.

For additional coddling when you're around the house in the daytime, keep a thin film of rich emollient cream on the skin. Only 20 or 30 minutes each day will help tremendously to bring that dewy look to your face.

To freshen up during the day, remove your makeup with cream cleanser or use cosmetic-remover pads without astringent in them. Blot your face with a Turkish cloth wrung out in cool water (no soap). This is possible at the office, too.

YOUR PURSE-SIZED CALORIE COUNTER — over 200 foods listed, in given quantities, together with the calories contained in those quantities. It's free for a stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to John Robert Powers, c/o this newspaper. Ask for "Your Diet and Calorie Guide."

'Thank You' Notes Are Sent To Board

Two "Thank you" notes were received by the Board of Allegany County Commissioners at its meeting Tuesday.

One was from Ralph W. Orndorff and family for rebuilding a bridge in Ellerslie and the other was from Friends Aware of Handicapped Children for offering a training site on the County Farm.

The General Assembly consists of all the members of the United Nations while the Security Council consists of the United States, Great Britain, Russia, Republic of China and France as permanent members and six others elected by the General Assembly.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This will probably wind up in the waste basket because if you printed it you'd look like a fool.

For years you've been telling teenagers they are too young to get married. Maybe YOU were an empty-headed kook when you were 16, but kids are a lot smarter today.

My husband and I were married four years ago. We were both 16. I know you're thinking "You HAD to." Well, you're wrong. It so happens I WAS pregnant but it was the only way to get my parents to sign for me.

We quit school and you always say that's a big mistake, too, but you're wrong again. We both got swell jobs. I worked up until the week my baby was born. Our two checks came to $135 a week which is more than my dad makes now.

We've been married four years and are still in love. We have two darling sons and a cute little house. All our relatives said our marriage would never last, but they were wrong.

So why don't you get off your broom and quit knocking teenage marriages? They can work — LIVING PROOF

DEAR LIVING: Congratulations and best wishes. You are exceptions, and there undoubtedly are other exceptions. But if you think I'm going to advise 16-year-old girls to get pregnant so their parents will be forced to let them marry, you're sadly mistaken.

Now that you are a mother, may I ask YOU a question? How would you like it if your 16-year-old son came home one day and said "I'm quitting high school to get married. My girl friend is pregnant."

Think about this before you advise kids to make the biggest decision of their lives before they are dry behind the ears.

DEAR ANN: Recently you printed a letter from a woman who said a housewife's lot is easier than her husband's because she could always "put things off."

I'd like to know how she puts off making three meals a day when her family expects to get fed? How can she put off driving her children to school and picking them up? When her mother-in-law must be taken to the dentist for an emergency extraction, how does she put THAT off?

When the children are sick, how does she put off giving them medicine every four hours? And if the doll has any bright ideas on how to put off a husband with an amorous gleam in his eye even though she is dead to the world, I'd like to have that information too. Me — I don't know any of these answers. — TEXARKANA DUMBBELL

DEAR TEX: Neither do I, so I guess that makes me a Chicago Dumbbell.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a girl 17 years old and a senior in high school. I have eight million freckles and I hate every one of them. In addition to this handicap when I was 14 I had acne which left me with deep pits on my cheeks and chin.

I have a nice figure, pretty red hair and fairly good features. It's my skin that makes me unattractive. Mother says I'm exaggerating all this in my mind and I'm really lovely looking. I'm beginning to think I have a face only a mother could love. Can you suggest help?—MARGIE

DEAR MARGIE: There is help available to you and I hope you will seek it.

Ask your doctor about a process called abrasive planing. It should be done by a skin specialist. This will remove your freckles and acne scars. But more important it will give you the psychological lift you need.

To learn the booby traps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Drinking," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Brewster Name To Be Removed In Island Case

SNOW HILL, Md. (AP) — The Worcester County Circuit clerk was ordered Thursday morning to strike the name of Daniel B. Brewster as a lawyer representing the Cecil Amusement Co. in the Assateague Island land condemnation case.

The move came after W. E. Green exhibited a copy of the suit record showing Brewster's name despite protestations by Brewster that he withdrew from all legal practice to run for the U.S. Senate.

Brewster said he had instructed William H. Price, a Snow Hill lawyer, to remove his name in the case on June 30. The office of Frank W. Hales, the court clerk, said the order was filed Thursday.

"It should have been done before," stated Price.

Brewster, in answering Green's display of the court record, defended himself by saying his name was listed as a lawyer in 500 cases around the state.

But he said, that because his past role in the Assateague Island case has become a political campaign issue, he asked Price to remove his name. Brewster said that otherwise it was not customary for a lawyer to eliminate his name from an original court suit if he withdrew later.

Edward T. Miller, Brewster's GOP opponent for the Senate seat in the Nov. 6 election, has declared he will continue to bring up the Democratic candidate's position in the Assateague land case during the campaign.

Brewster has labeled it a smear.

Miller, taking his cue from Green who has been involved in development of Assateague for 10 years, has criticized Brewster's representation of the amusement company while being a former member of the House of Delegates from Baltimore County.

Brewster has admitted he agreed to represent the company in return for 12.5 per cent of any amount it was paid for land it claims title to on Assateague.

The state this week started condemnation suits to acquire land on the island for a public recreation area.

Brewster has maintained he disassociated himself from his former law partners in Towson and will receive no more fees from any the firm receives.

Four Die In Fire

MEXIA, Tex. (UPI)—Four persons were burned to death Thursday when fire roared through a one-story frame house in Mexia. Three other persons escaped. The dead were Allee Wilson, 78, owner of the house and Jerry Don Melton, 21; and his two daughters, Wanda Fay, 10 and Sharon Lee, 5.

Soldier Held In Hammer Slaying Of Pretty Wife

BALTIMORE (AP) — Police charged a 27-year-old soldier Thursday in the hammer slaying of his 24-year-old wife, whose battered body was found in the basement of her northwest Baltimore home Wednesday.

The soldier, Sheldon Foland, surrendered to State Police at Westminster early Thursday.

Police found the beaten body of his wife, Sandra Sue Foland, after the family maid saw bloodstains in the living room. The stains led to the basement, where investigators found the body and a blood-stained hammer nearby.

A State Police radio dispatcher said the soldier from nearby Ft. Meade entered the Westminster barrack and said, "I believe I have killed my wife."

Troopers said they took Foland to Carroll County Hospital for apparent self-inflicted cuts on his wrist. Later, Baltimore detectives brought him here for further questioning and charged him.

Mrs. Foland, an attractive brunette, had been living apart from her husband. They had three children, Linda, 7, Tammy Rose, 2, and Michael, 1.

Foland had been living with an aunt in the same section of the city as his wife. Neighbors said he had visited his wife and children frequently

Maryland Briefs

BALTIMORE (AP)—Saul Stern, capitalist, parlayed a 20-cent stock dividend into $1,425 this week without leaving his stroller.

Saul, 14 months old, received the dividend Sept. 15 from his one share of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. stock. His father, Robert, a 21-year-old research chemist, promptly mailed the 20-cent check with Saul's bankbook to Uptown Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Saul's bank balance was $48.85. Wednesday, the bank book was returned with the 20-cent deposit recorded and a new balance of $1,425.85.

A call to the bank confirmed an accounting error. Saul's father is keeping the bank book as a souvenir. Saul himself had no comment.

ELLICOTT CITY, Md. (AP) — Two members of the South Carolina Tax Commission are studying methods, procedures and forms used in Howard County, with a view toward using a similar system in their home state.

Thomas Cero of the Maryland Department of Assessment and Taxation said Howard County is "looked on by national authorities as having one of the best systems in constant working condition in the United States."

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Board of Education has approved in principle a report calling for a network of six educational television stations in Maryland.

The plan would cost the state $2 million the first year and $800,000 annually thereafter. The report drawn up by a State Department of Education staff was financed by the Ford Foundation and will be turned over to that organization for further study.

Consumer Protection Measures Considered

BALTIMORE (AP) — Legislators trying to protect Maryland buyers from being cheated by merchants will receive a ready-made study from the attorney general's office.

Dels. Alexander Stark, D-Balto 5th, and H. Kemp MacDaniel, D-Balto, will meet Friday with Robert F. Sweeney, who has been studying consumer protection.

Thomas B. Finan, attorney general, offered the two legislators full cooperation "to determine if there are any measures by which we can better protect the people of Maryland.

Finan said Sweeney has studied consumer laws in other states, inquired of Maryland agencies about the types of complaints they have received and attended conferences on the subject.

Stark and MacDaniel intend to offer the 1963 legislature wide-ranging recommendations for tightening laws on consumer fraud. MacDaniel was chief architect of Maryland's first law passed this year to regulate the home improvement industry.

Girl Admits Killing Her Newborn Infant

SALISBURY (AP) — State Police have charged an 18-year-old Wicomico County girl with killing her newborn infant last weekend.

Manslaughter was the formal charge placed against Mary Alice Brittingham of Pittsville Wednesday. Officers said the infant's partially buried body was found near the home of Miss Brittingham's grandparents, where she lives, after the girl admitted killing it.

Article I, Section 8 of the Constitution gives Congress the power to levy and collect taxes, says the Internal Revenue Service.

Ohio is topped only by Wisconsin in the production of kitchenware.

Young snakes develop rapidly and must shed their skin to take care of the growth.

Early excise taxes, reports Internal Revenue, were levied on distilled spirits, carriages, refined sugar, snuff, snuff mills, property sold at auction, bonds and slaves.

Brewster Name To Be Removed In Island Case

SNOW HILL, Md. (AP) — The Worcester County Circuit clerk was ordered Thursday morning to strike the name of Daniel B. Brewster as a lawyer representing the Cecil Amusement Co. in the Assateague Island land condemnation case.

The move came after W. E. Green exhibited a copy of the suit record showing Brewster's name despite protestations by Brewster that he withdrew from all legal practice to run for the U.S. Senate.

Brewster said he had instructed William H. Price, a Snow Hill lawyer, to remove his name in the case on June 30. The office of Frank W. Hales, the court clerk, said the order was filed Thursday.

"It should have been done before," stated Price.

Brewster, in answering Green's display of the court record, defended himself by saying his name was listed as a lawyer in 500 cases around the state.

But he said, that because his past role in the Assateague Island case has become a political campaign issue, he asked Price to remove his name. Brewster said that otherwise it was not customary for a lawyer to eliminate his name from an original court suit if he withdrew later.

Edward T. Miller, Brewster's GOP opponent for the Senate seat in the Nov. 6 election, has declared he will continue to bring up the Democratic candidate's position in the Assateague land case during the campaign.

Brewster has labeled it a smear.

Miller, taking his cue from Green who has been involved in development of Assateague for 10 years, has criticized Brewster's representation of the amusement company while being a former member of the House of Delegates from Baltimore County.

Brewster has admitted he agreed to represent the company in return for 12.5 per cent of any amount it was paid for land it claims title to on Assateague.

The state this week started condemnation suits to acquire land on the island for a public recreation area.

Brewster has maintained he disassociated himself from his former law partners in Towson and will receive no more fees from any the firm receives.

Four Die In Fire

MEXIA, Tex. (UPI)—Four persons were burned to death Thursday when fire roared through a one-story frame house in Mexia. Three other persons escaped. The dead were Allee Wilson, 78, owner of the house and Jerry Don Melton, 21; and his two daughters, Wanda Fay, 10 and Sharon Lee, 5.

Soldier Held In Hammer Slaying Of Pretty Wife

BALTIMORE (AP) — Police charged a 27-year-old soldier Thursday in the hammer slaying of his 24-year-old wife, whose battered body was found in the basement of her northwest Baltimore home Wednesday.

The soldier, Sheldon Foland, surrendered to State Police at Westminster early Thursday.

Police found the beaten body of his wife, Sandra Sue Foland, after the family maid saw bloodstains in the living room. The stains led to the basement, where investigators found the body and a blood-stained hammer nearby.

A State Police radio dispatcher said the soldier from nearby Ft. Meade entered the Westminster barrack and said, "I believe I have killed my wife."

Troopers said they took Foland to Carroll County Hospital for apparent self-inflicted cuts on his wrist. Later, Baltimore detectives brought him here for further questioning and charged him.

Mrs. Foland, an attractive brunette, had been living apart from her husband. They had three children, Linda, 7, Tammy Rose, 2, and Michael, 1.

Foland had been living with an aunt in the same section of the city as his wife. Neighbors said he had visited his wife and children frequently

Maryland Briefs

BALTIMORE (AP)—Saul Stern, capitalist, parlayed a 20-cent stock dividend into $1,425 this week without leaving his stroller.

Saul, 14 months old, received the dividend Sept. 15 from his one share of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. stock. His father, Robert, a 21-year-old research chemist, promptly mailed the 20-cent check with Saul's bankbook to Uptown Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Saul's bank balance was $48.85. Wednesday, the bank book was returned with the 20-cent deposit recorded and a new balance of $1,425.85.

A call to the bank confirmed an accounting error. Saul's father is keeping the bank book as a souvenir. Saul himself had no comment.

ELLICOTT CITY, Md. (AP) — Two members of the South Carolina Tax Commission are studying methods, procedures and forms used in Howard County, with a view toward using a similar system in their home state.

Thomas Cero of the Maryland Department of Assessment and Taxation said Howard County is "looked on by national authorities as having one of the best systems in constant working condition in the United States."

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Board of Education has approved in principle a report calling for a network of six educational television stations in Maryland.

The plan would cost the state $2 million the first year and $800,000 annually thereafter. The report drawn up by a State Department of Education staff was financed by the Ford Foundation and will be turned over to that organization for further study.

Consumer Protection Measures Considered

BALTIMORE (AP) — Legislators trying to protect Maryland buyers from being cheated by merchants will receive a ready-made study from the attorney general's office.

Dels. Alexander Stark, D-Balto 5th, and H. Kemp MacDaniel, D-Balto, will meet Friday with Robert F. Sweeney, who has been studying consumer protection.

Thomas B. Finan, attorney general, offered the two legislators full cooperation "to determine if there are any measures by which we can better protect the people of Maryland.

Finan said Sweeney has studied consumer laws in other states, inquired of Maryland agencies about the types of complaints they have received and attended conferences on the subject.

Americans Traveling Abroad Reported Behaving More Like Good Ambassadors

By RALPH VILLERS

NEW YORK (UPI) — The much-maligned American traveler overseas has found a defender, and one who knows of what he speaks.

Just back from Europe, Joyce C. Hall, observed:

"I was impressed with the difference in the way people (Americans) handle themselves in Europe today compared to 15 years ago. They are behaving more like good ambassadors."

Hall, who is chairman of the executive committee of People-to-People, was quite pleased with what he found, refuting, as it does, some of the "Ugly American" complex that has grown up about the behavior of traveling Americans in foreign lands.

People-to-People, a non-governmental, non-political and non-profit organization with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., is the outgrowth of the movement started by President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1956 to encourage contact between Americans and people overseas in the cause of better understanding and peace.

More plain Americans behaving as goodwill ambassadors on an individual basis is one of the principle People-to-People goals.

Some 350 Midwestern college students went to Europe this past summer — at their own expense — as just such ambassadors. The first stop was West Berlin, and then they split into groups large and small, traveling through 19 nations meeting other students and just the plain people. Two Kansas University boys hitchhiked, some went by car, others on motorcycles or bicycles. It all grew out of People-to-People on Campus, which started in Kansas and has spread to 600 schools.

There are just as many opportunities for individual travelers to meet and get to know the people of the countries they are visiting — and it's really the only way to get the full flavor and enjoyment out of a foreign land.

Several European countries have "meet the people" programs such as Denmark. By giving the "meet the Danes" program in Copenhagen a full 24 hours' notice, arrangements can be made to spend an evening with a Dane of a similar background and profession. The only requirement is willingness to spend the evening, not popping in for an hour and back out again.

Hall has a simple solution for visitors to a city or country which does not have such a program.

"If you're a newspaperman, go to the newspaper office. If you're a bricklayer, look up a bricklayer. If you're a teacher, go to the schools. I think you'll get 99 per cent acceptance. And when you do, it's a pleasure both ways.

The campus People-to-People program this year was just a start of what Eisenhower and Hall hope for the future.

Americans Traveling Abroad Reported Behaving More Like Good Ambassadors

By RALPH VILLERS

NEW YORK (UPI) — The much-maligned American traveler overseas has found a defender, and one who knows of what he speaks.

Just back from Europe, Joyce C. Hall, observed:

"I was impressed with the difference in the way people (Americans) handle themselves in Europe today compared to 15 years ago. They are behaving more like good ambassadors."

Hall, who is chairman of the executive committee of People-to-People, was quite pleased with what he found, refuting, as it does, some of the "Ugly American" complex that has grown up about the behavior of traveling Americans in foreign lands.

People-to-People, a non-governmental, non-political and non-profit organization with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., is the outgrowth of the movement started by President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1956 to encourage contact between Americans and people overseas in the cause of better understanding and peace.

More plain Americans behaving as goodwill ambassadors on an individual basis is one of the principle People-to-People goals.

Some 350 Midwestern college students went to Europe this past summer — at their own expense — as just such ambassadors. The first stop was West Berlin, and then they split into groups large and small, traveling through 19 nations meeting other students and just the plain people. Two Kansas University boys hitchhiked, some went by car, others on motorcycles or bicycles. It all grew out of People-to-People on Campus, which started in Kansas and has spread to 600 schools.

There are just as many opportunities for individual travelers to meet and get to know the people of the countries they are visiting — and it's really the only way to get the full flavor and enjoyment out of a foreign land.

Several European countries have "meet the people" programs such as Denmark. By giving the "meet the Danes" program in Copenhagen a full 24 hours' notice, arrangements can be made to spend an evening with a Dane of a similar background and profession. The only requirement is willingness to spend the evening, not popping in for an hour and back out again.

Hall has a simple solution for visitors to a city or country which does not have such a program.

"If you're a newspaperman, go to the newspaper office. If you're a bricklayer, look up a bricklayer. If you're a teacher, go to the schools. I think you'll get 99 per cent acceptance. And when you do, it's a pleasure both ways.

The campus People-to-People program this year was just a start of what Eisenhower and Hall hope for the future.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lenna Loyd makes her living needling people.

Understandably, her only concern stems from encounters with humans — men especially—who can't stand the sight of needles or blood, in that order.

Miss Loyd, president of the American Society of Medical Technologists, said in an interview that her 33,000 colleagues the nation—needlers all — share the concern over males who turn faint at the sight of a needle in the hands of a technologist about to sample blood, as doctor ordered.

"Women patients," she said, "have a couldn't-care-less attitude, but the males turn white, sweat and do all the other things one associates with the brink of faintmanship when the time comes to take a bit of blood for laboratory analysis."

Miss Loyd said she first noticed the male's fearful reaction to the medical technologist's needle when serving as a pharmacist's mate in the Pacific during World War II.

"It's the same in civilian practice," she said. "And the only antidote for this kind of reaction involves thinking of something else, turning the head, and weighing the facts."

Miss Loyd, chief technologist at Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland, Ore., was interviewed during a New York stopover en route to the annual meeting of the technologist's society, Washington.

The facts she recommended for those who grow faint at the sight of a needle and the thought of giving a bit of blood include the following:

—Most technologists today use the new disposable needles. These are machine-sharpened and hardly can be felt when slipped into the arm or when withdrawn.

—The usual blood - withdrawal involves just 10 cubic centimeters, about one-third of an ounce. It just seems like gallons when you watch it filling up the skinny glass tube attached to the technologist's needle.

Miss Loyd said there is a need for 28,000 medical technologists in the nation's hospitals. The pay ranges from $4,500 to $12,000 a year.

Training includes several years of college plus training in a school approved by the Joint Council of Education of the American Medical Association.

EAL Reports Strike Cost Is $7.6 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Eastern Air Lines' lengthy flight engineers strike resulted in a loss of $7,6 million, it was reported Wednesday.

An official report to the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) showed that Eastern suffered operating losses of $23.4 million from June 23, when the strike began, through Sept. 13 when Eastern virtually was back to full service.

But Eastern also reported it received $15.8 million from other airlines, under their mutual aid pact. The agreement requires member airlines to guarantee a struck carrier 25 per cent of its operating expenses.

Dixie Moonshine Stills—Where Things Not What They Seem

By ALFRED MCCORMACK JR.

GREENSBORO, N.C. (UPI) — Here in Dixie where the moonshine still flows despite never-ending efforts to stamp it out, sometimes it's hard to tell a still-tender from a candlestick maker, antique dealer or merchant.

Antiques and a liquor still decorated the home of Mrs. Mattie Harrington at Scuppernong, N.C., when Treasury agents paid her a surprise visit recently. There was an old spinning wheel in the parlor and an all-copper liquor still in the bedroom.

Mrs. Harrington's home, once a landmark of the historic section, overlooks rich farmlands on the south shore of Albermarle Sound. Agents said the home was furnished with antiques and colonial furniture, including an old spinning wheel, but furniture had been removed from the upstairs bedroom and stored to make room for an elaborate illegal distillery.

Pleading guilty earlier this year the little old lady told a federal judge she made whisky to offset losses from a business swindle involing her country store. Mrs. Harrington, 60, was fined $2,500 and placed on probation for three years.

The sign on the front door of a house at Gaffney, S.C. stated simply, "Please do not disturb Third Shift Worker."

Sheriff Julian Wright's deputies disregarded the printed appeal, entered the six - room dwelling and found a giant whisky still ready for operation in the heart of the mill city. They also found 36 wooden barrels containing 1,500 gallons of mash and, literally, only a stick of furniture—a wooden chair.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cass of Wilkes County lived with their seven children on a farm near Wilkesboro. Agents raided the place a year ago and found what they termed an almost perfect distillery, patterned after the most modern commercial setups.

It was completely underground with the entrance to the site hidden under a slat-type floor of a pig pen. Underground pipes carried water from a creek some distance away and discharged spent mash back into the creek.

The still's vent pipe was camoflaged in heavy brush and weeds; the underground chamber was electrically lighted, and whisky was pumped to an outlet in a nearby barn. The couple's farm was confiscated under federal law.

Other occupations of persons convicted of moonshining and boot legging in the Carolinas in recent months include gas station attendant, wholesale bakery supply dealer, short order cook, packhouse worker, automobile mechanic, farmer and mill worker.

Pakistan Gets Loan

KARACHI (UPI)—The United States and Pakistan have signed a second interest-free, long term loan for $45 million for purchase of iron and steel products. A similar loan agreement was signed in May, bringing the amount available to Pakistan for purchase of iron and steel products to $90 million.

The first Civil War internal revenue measure provided for a 3 per cent levy on annual income of over $800.

Frederick Credit Bureau Buys Local Corporations

The Credit Bureau of Frederick Inc. has reached an agreement to purchase the Cumberland Credit Bureau Inc. and the V. C. Powell Publicity Service Inc., both Liberty Trust Building.

The firms are being acquired by the Frederick company, which has been operating for the past 30 years in Frederick, Washington and Carroll counties, from the Liberty Trust Company, executor of the estate of the late Virgil C. Powell, who died earlier this year.

Powell, founder of the two firms, was a pioneer in the credit bureau and credit reporting field in Western Maryland.

The Credit Bureau of Frederick is operated by Mrs. Cecilia M. Nestor and John M. Motter.

Motter will take over and operate the Cumberland Credit Bureau and the Powell Publicity Service, with no change in the personnel of five persons contemplated.

Mrs. Nestor, like Powell, was also one of the first credit bureau managers in Western Maryland.

The same activities of the Powell firms will be conducted by the new owners,—credit reporting, publicity and collections.

The Powell and the Frederick companies belong to Associated Credit Bureaus of America and Credit Bureau Reports Inc. Mrs. Nestor and Motter said the membership will be continued.

The ohm is the unit of electrical resistance and represents the physical property of a conductor which offers a resistance to the flow of electricity, permitting just one ampere to flow at one volt of pressure.

Notice Is Given On City Tax Bills

The tax collector's office, which Monday placed 13,000 real estate bills in the mail to Cumberland taxpayers, said yesterday 33 have been returned to date because of incorrect addresses.

It is the taxpayers' responsibility to see that their address is correct and that bills are received. Failure to receive a bill is no excuse for not paying taxes, Finance Commissioner Frederick J. Hill said.

Any person who has not received his tax bill by today should contact the tax office at once, Collector George E. Davis said.

Taxes paid by October 20 will be interest free. After that date, interest at the rate of one-half per cent a month retroactive to August 20 will be charged.

Second Person Is Being Sought In W. Va. Robbery

Maryland and West Virginia authorities are continuing their search for a second man in connection with the robbery last week of a well-to-do Berkeley Springs, W. Va., widow.

Authorities identify him as George W. Courtney, 36, of Hagerstown and Hancock, who reportedly also is wanted in connection with a slaying in Hagerstown.

Being held in Berkeley Springs jail under $10,000 bond is Robert Lee Keckler, 35, of Hagerstown. Cpl. J. D. Higby, of the West Virginia State Police at Berkeley Springs, says Keckler admits participation in the September 10 robbery of Mrs. Jennie Harmison, 64, operator of Park View Inn there.

Mrs. Harmison was robbed of several thousand dollars in cash, jewels and bonds by the two men who entered her bedroom while she was asleep early on the morning of September 10.

Police quote Keckler as saying the loot amounted to $126,000, but authorities say the exact amount will not be known until serial numbers on the bonds are checked out. Some of the loot has been recovered.

The thieves demanded, under threat of death, that Mrs. Harmison tell them where she kept her money. The money and other valuables were taken from an unlocked metal storage cabinet.

Despite their threats, police said the two men were considerate of Mrs. Harmison. Police explained they were careful not to hurt her, and even asked is the ribbon they used to [illegible] the bed was cutting her arms.

The loot included series "E" and "F" government bonds, according to authorities, who said some of the checks that were taken could not be cashed since they were stamped "for deposit only."

Keckler was picked up earlier this week in Hagerstown and waived extradition to West Virginia.

Pakistan Gets Loan

KARACHI (UPI)—The United States and Pakistan have signed a second interest-free, long term loan for $45 million for purchase of iron and steel products. A similar loan agreement was signed in May, bringing the amount available to Pakistan for purchase of iron and steel products to $90 million.

The first Civil War internal revenue measure provided for a 3 per cent levy on annual income of over $800.

Frederick Credit Bureau Buys Local Corporations

The Credit Bureau of Frederick Inc. has reached an agreement to purchase the Cumberland Credit Bureau Inc. and the V. C. Powell Publicity Service Inc., both Liberty Trust Building.

The firms are being acquired by the Frederick company, which has been operating for the past 30 years in Frederick, Washington and Carroll counties, from the Liberty Trust Company, executor of the estate of the late Virgil C. Powell, who died earlier this year.

Powell, founder of the two firms, was a pioneer in the credit bureau and credit reporting field in Western Maryland.

The Credit Bureau of Frederick is operated by Mrs. Cecilia M. Nestor and John M. Motter.

Motter will take over and operate the Cumberland Credit Bureau and the Powell Publicity Service, with no change in the personnel of five persons contemplated.

Mrs. Nestor, like Powell, was also one of the first credit bureau managers in Western Maryland.

The same activities of the Powell firms will be conducted by the new owners,—credit reporting, publicity and collections.

The Powell and the Frederick companies belong to Associated Credit Bureaus of America and Credit Bureau Reports Inc. Mrs. Nestor and Motter said the membership will be continued.

Notice Is Given On City Tax Bills

The tax collector's office, which Monday placed 13,000 real estate bills in the mail to Cumberland taxpayers, said yesterday 33 have been returned to date because of incorrect addresses.

It is the taxpayers' responsibility to see that their address is correct and that bills are received. Failure to receive a bill is no excuse for not paying taxes, Finance Commissioner Frederick J. Hill said.

Any person who has not received his tax bill by today should contact the tax office at once, Collector George E. Davis said.

Taxes paid by October 20 will be interest free. After that date, interest at the rate of one-half per cent a month retroactive to August 20 will be charged.

Tractor-Trailer Overturns In Avoiding Train Crash

A tractor trailer operator was badly injured Wednesday night when he wrecked his rig to avoid into a train where a railroad track crosses U. S. Route 50 near Romney.

Admitted to Hampshire County Memorial Hospital, Romney, was George Clem, of that community. Hospital officials reported Clem in "fair" condition yesterday and listed his most serious injuries as fractures of the pelvis and a vertebra.

Sgt. Brook L. Burner, of the West Virginia State Police detachment at Romney, said Clem was driving a rig for the Moran Trucking Company of Westernport, and was hauling a load of paper rolls from the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Clem was traveling east on U.S. 50 as he approached the highway crossing at Vanderlip, about two miles west of Romney. The railroad crossing has no warning lights, Sgt. Burner said, adding that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company sends a train into the area only about three times a week.

The driver swerved his truck to avoid striking the moving train, Sgt. Burner said, adding that the rig overturned and was badly damaged.

Traffic was blocked nearly an hour until the rig and paper rolls could be cleared from the highway.

Assisting in the investigation and traffic control was Trooper John Leeson, also from the Romney detachment.

Four School Boards Will Meet Here

Members of the board of education of the four western-most Maryland counties will convene at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club Tuesday at 10:45 a. m. to discuss mutual problems.

The board members from Allegany, Washington, Garrett and Frederick counties, together with their superintendent of schools, were called together by the Washington County Board of Education.

William M. Brish, superintendent of Washington County schools, who is in charge of the agenda, said the "informal forum" type of program will be exploratory in nature.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of Allegany County schools, pointed out that the meeting was initiated by the Washington County Board of Education as a result of a suggestion by the Washington County Commissioners.

The main item of discussion will center around the teacher salary problem as it relates to the four-county sector.

Brish said today that there will be no specific agenda, other than informal exploration of growing enrollment, the construction problem, teachers' needs and the salary issue.

Brish pointed out that the aim of the talks will be to determine if the four counties have mutual and common problems.

If so, he added, then the group can work toward the solution of them in a four-county united action.

President At The Bargaining Table

Whatever the administration's professed aversion to deciding labor disputes, it has been moving steadily toward the head of the bargaining table.

Automobile, steel and shipping industries and even the Metropolitan Opera have encountered new government pressures at contract-writing time, and now the aerospace industry is virtually ordered to accept union demands for the union shop.

Inasmuch as the aerospace companies involved depend largely on government contracts to stay in business, the union shop demand by their biggest customer invites no backtalk. President Kennedy bases his demand on the recommendations of a three-man board headed by Dr. George W. Taylor of the University of Pennsylvania, and as in all other recent labor disputes, the government justifies it on grounds of national interest.

But Mr. Kennedy's edict reaches far beyond the aerospace dispute. For the President has more or less declared the controversial question of compulsory union membership to be the public policy, at least where government contracts are involved. This is government involvement in the labor-management field that goes beyond the realistic "guidelines" for wages and productivity staked out for automobiles, steel and railroads.

The threat of an aerospace strike is serious business, but so is this attempt by government to dictate a policy that will reach far beyond the aerospace industry.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Responsibility Of Congress

Everywhere one hears these days about the power of the President, the authority of the President, the President's program, etc. True, the President is the chief executive of the nation who functions through a vast and overpowering bureaucracy.

Originally, all bureaux and agencies were organized within departments at the head of which was a member of the President's Cabinet. This was an orderly system of government. The functions of the President became more numerous because Congress delegated new authorities and responsibilities to the President and created many independent agencies. Thus, it was Congress which increased Presidential functions and responsibilities.

The actual center of power, according to the Constitution, is not vested in the President but in Congress. In fact, the Constitution places the legislative authority first. Congress can impeach a President but a President cannot dismiss any member of Congress. True, a President may veto a bill passed by Congress, but the Congress may pass it over the President's head by a two-thirds vote of those present. The President may, in the conduct of foreign policy, reach agreements with foreign nations but if they involve expenditures, the agreements are worthless unless the expenditures are sanctioned by Congress.

However, the business of government has grown too large and too complex to handle all its aspects. Therefore, numerous activities have been referred to agencies and bureaux and some of these arms of government have regulatory authorities which have the potency of an act of Congress. The ICC, FCC, FTC, SEC, etc., etc., are such regulatory agencies which possess enormous powers. Most of their work is unknown or buried in unreadable reports.

There is much criticism of these agencies. Nevertheless, what nonsense it is for Congress to go through the effort, spending time and thought, "to promote the production of oysters by propagation of disease resistant strains and for other purposes." This is Public Law 87,580 which passed the House of Representatives and the Senate and was signed by the President on August 9, 1962.

I do not object to purifying the strain of the oyster but it would seem to me that such matters might be routine with the Secretary of Agriculture. But what has happened is that Congress decided:

". . . The Secretary of the Interior is authorized with respect to those States where he finds that excessive mortality of oysters presents an immediate and substantial threat to the economic stability of the oyster industry in such area or region, to acquire oyster brood stock that he believes possesses resistance to the causative agent of such excessive mortality . . ."

Whereupon the law authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to do various and sundry things about the oyster, provided he does not spend more than $100,000 doing it.

Not many members of the Congress can possibly know anything about how to raise these critters. I know two salient facts about oysters: 1. They are good to eat in various forms; 2. Pearls are found in them. My preference for oysters is raw with mignonette sauce and a white wine. However, neither the Secretary of the Interior nor the Secretary of Agriculture can do anything about that—all is forbidden joy!

I cite this legislation to indicate how intricate and even wasteful of time and energy our system of government has become. We cannot govern too wisely because decisions are slowed up by the complexities of control. The controls are essential if we are to continue our theory of government in which the people govern themselves not directly but through representatives. The members of Congress are not expected to be the wisest, the most expert, the most able men in the community from which they come. They are expected to be representative. For instance, Senator Eastland would not be representative of New York State but he is representative of Mississippi.

Senator Fulbright, who represents Arkansas in the Senate which, according to the Constitution is all that he needs to do, also may be regarded as representing in the Senate, as do Senators Douglas, Humphrey, McCarthy and Mansfield, the intellectuals of the country, the university professors, the experts who usually are found in bureaux rather than in the Senate. The disciplined minds that appear in Congress these days give encouragement to the idea that our nation is maturing and that the Congressional system is gaining in strength despite the expansion of the power of the Executive.

The Union Shop And The Erosion Of Rights

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Freedom of the individual in his beliefs is the boast of America. The schoolbooks teach it. Our representatives at the U. N. proclaim it. Our politicians preach it. Yet when the test comes as between human rights and the desire to favor a special group, hypocrisy occasionally takes over in Washington.

President Kennedy is an earnest and conscientious public servant, but, as a champion of human rights, he sometimes emphasizes only those "civil rights" which will get him votes and does not risk a fight for basic principles that might lose him the votes of a pressure group.

A case in point is his outright advocacy of a system which compels a man to join a union to keep his job. Mr. Kennedy sees nothing wrong with this form of enslavement. True liberals disagree with him. For if in free America a man's fundamental beliefs today are subject to coercion —and even penalty—then the outcry for "civil rights" and individual freedom of belief has a hollow sound.

The principle of compulsory unionization, for instance, came up at Mr. Kennedy's news conference on September 13. What the President said attracted little attention because, history tells us, as human rights are eroded, there is, unfortunately, a tendency, to accept the doctrine that "the end justifies the means." The question arose in connection with the current dispute between labor unions and companies engaged in the manufacture of machinery for air-space projects. Four leading aerospace companies, especially Lockheed, have rejected the basic demand of the labor unions for a so-called "union shop." Mr. Kennedy was asked for his reaction. His reply, as recorded by tape, was as follows:

"Well, in the first place, most major industrial companies or industries in the United States have accepted the union shop many years ago—the steel industry, the auto industry, the aluminum companies, other basic industries. The union shop is part of collective bargaining. Particularly under the terms suggested by Dr. Taylor, a two-thirds vote—people do not have to join the union unless —to get the job.

"After they've come to work, if it is the opinion of a large majority of the measures, then they would join the union. This, as I say, has been acceptable for many years to many companies which are even larger than the ones that are involved."

The President went on to say that he hoped the companies would accept the proposal "because, if there is a strike, the responsibility would be very clear. I think, to the American people for such an action."

Thus a President of the United States says, in effect, that a labor union may extort an advantage for itself—even though it violates human rights—and that, rather than bear the cost of a strike or its inconvenience, the American people must surrender to expediency and forego the principle of human freedom.

Now, the "union shop" is, to be sure, a part of the process of collective bargaining. So are blackmail and coercion and the threat to destroy an employer's business if he doesn't accept the union's demands.

But recently the country has been hearing a lot about the third party—the public—and much has been said about the "public interest." Does a form of compulsory unionization become right just because company after company has been forced in the past by coercive threats of strikes and financial loss to give in to union demands? Hasn't the President argued often that freedom of belief and freedom of conscience are guaranteed under "the law of the land"?

The right of an individual to get a job and keep it without sacrificing his beliefs—by being forced to join any organization in whose purposes he does not believe—is inherent in the Articles of the Constitution.

The argument of the labor unions is that the majority of the employees in a plant is the boss and can tell each worker to join or be fired. The worker isn't required to be a member when he applies, but if he gets the job, he must decide within 30 or 60 days whether to join the union or lose his job. The employer, under a contract with the union, becomes an unwilling partner in the conspiracy to deprive the worker of his right not to join a private organization. Nineteen states by law forbid compulsory unionization of any kind. These are called "right to work" laws.

Recognizing the injustice of compulsion, some unions have asked only for the "agency shop," which means that the non-union employe renders financial support by regular payments that help cover the cost of the bargaining done in his behalf—the equivalent of union dues. But the worker doesn't have to join the union. Even this partial removal of the flaw in the compulsory union system was not espoused by President Kennedy when he talked last week to his news conference. For most of the labor leaders are against the "agency shop," too.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

POLITICIANS — We have long insisted that politicians are human beings. And we've got a story to prove it!

Sen. Paul Douglas, of Illinois, recently planned a warm reception for 17 members of the Kankakee Little League baseball team that had won the state championship. They were due in his Senate office at mid-morning and Douglas sent out for some de luxe hamburgers to delight the kids with.

But something slipped. The kids dropped by the office of the other Senator from Illinois, Everett Dirksen, who served up a passel of snacks he had rustled up for them. And there was Douglas, alone in his office with a bunch of hot, but cooling hamburgers.

Politicians are resourceful. Douglas called in his assistant and had him take the load of goodies to a nearby fountain where kids of the city's streets swim illegally during the sultry Washington summer months.

The senator's assistant and his load of hamburgers arrived on the scene just in time to witness the kids being scooted from the fountain by a local cop. But he prevailed on the policeman to delay their departure long enough for them to consume the gift of food.

Douglas was happy for being a disappointed host. He likes both kids and hamburgers, and, by a coincidence, it was his father-in-law, Lorado Taft, who had sculptured the fountain where his hamburgers found those grateful youngsters.

Secret House-Senate Debate Will Provide Puzzle For Supreme Court

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—A secret debate inside the House-Senate conference on college education has contrived to hand the Supreme Court a hodge-podge to unravel.

After three hours of haggling over federal aid to colleges and separation of church and state, nobody quite knew what the final result would be except for one thing—the buck has been passed to the Supreme Court.

The chief issue, deadlocking House and Senate conferees for four months, was whether to give outright grants to religious and private colleges. The House was adamant for grants, not to be repaid to the Treasury. The Senate argued that these violated the constitutional separation of church and state. It voted for loans. Even loans, some Senators felt, might violate the Constitution.

Although the federal money would go to any religious colleges, whether Protestant or Catholic, the majority of the religious colleges which would benefit are Catholic. Furthermore, Catholic pressure to pass the House bill has been heavy. There has been no pressure from Protestants.

One of the backstage pressure-putters has been gaunt, gray Speaker John McCormack of Boston, once called by Kennedy "the Bishop of Boston." John has been phoning Senators asking them to vote out a bill giving outright grants to religious colleges.

Hodge-Podge Compromise

When the showdown came behind closed doors this week, the Republican Senators lined up solidly behind aid to Catholic colleges. GOP Senators were: Goldwater, Ariz., Prouty, Vt., and Javits, N. Y. Jewish voters in New York have been strong for separation of church and state, brought the famous prayer case in Long Island on which the Supreme Court ruled recently. Javits, however, voted in secret against members of his own faith.

The compromise, hammered out after long closed-door haggling, was:

1. To permit outright grants up to $1.5 billion to religious schools to build buildings for science, libraries, and engineering. This is considered national defense, not religion. Some Senators, however, argued that this merely permitted religious colleges to use federal funds for science and engineering, then divert the money thus saved for religious teaching.

2. To permit total scholarships up to $600,000,000 to students of both public and religious colleges, with 20 per cent forgiveness to worthy students.

The money is to be spent over a five-year period.

Remarked one Senator: "It's a jumbled compromise, and the Supreme Court will probably rule it all unconstitutional."

Remarked one Congressman: "But by the time the Supreme Court rules out religious colleges, they will have spent their money and no court ruling is retroactive. The money will not have to be paid back."

Behind The Scenes

Some Michigan newspapers played up the fact that George Romney, GOP candidate for governor, walked in the Detroit Labor Day procession, while Gov. John B. Swainson and Sen. Pat McNamara, Democrats, rode in an open car. They overlooked two facts: Pat McNamara, now aged 67, has been recovering from a cancer operation. Gov. Swainson had two legs shot off in the war . . . During the war, Romney got a fat salary as head of the Automobile Manufacturers Association. Swainson enlisted as a GI . . . Erna Grunewald Russell, daughter of the late Henry Grunewald, "the mystery man," is collecting her father's papers with a view to writing his biography. Some of her father's friends are getting jittery . . . When Protestant subordinates suppressed a Public Health Service report on birth control—as a result of Congressional and some religious pressure —Tony Celebrezze, first Catholic Secretary of HEW, decided to publish it . . . Millions of fish have been dying in the Potomac River as a result of the drought and low water. Yet upstream land-holders continue to resist reservoirs which would give the Potomac an even flow of water . . . Ken Galbraith, brilliant, erudite ambassador to India, is returning to Harvard. The University refused to extend his leave of absence, told him to decide whether he wanted to be an ambassador or a professor. He decided to go back to professoring.

Continuing Mail Scandal

The highwaymen who pulled off the great Massachusetts mail robbery don't know it, but they were not as smart as they might have been. If they had made their strike one week earlier, they would have picked up twice as much cash—$3,000,000 instead of the $1,551,227 which they got.

The Republican Congressional committee recently issued a newsletter attributing the robbery to the fact that the Massachusetts state police were so busy guarding the President's family that they had no men to police the highway.

It so happens that the President and all his family were away at the time except for his aged father who was in a wheel chair at Hyannis Port. Furthermore, Postmaster General Day has a letter, dated July 18, confirming "the agreed upon procedure" that the "state police will alert patrols along the route of travel."

Some 125 persons knew the basic facts—knew to the split second just when the mail truck would pass along the 85-mile route. Yet, according to Post Office testimony, the state police never had "this particular truck under surveillance during this trip."

Hunters: Take Precautions With Wild Life

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Tularemia usually is associated with hunting and the skinning of wild animals, especially the cottontail and wild hare. Prevention is almost entirely a matter of personal precautions. Hunters must be careful in areas where the disease is known to exist. Butchers and housewives ought to wear rubber gloves when handling wild rabbits.

Tularemia is chiefly a disease of wild animals, including squirrels, woodchucks, foxes, and coyotes, as well as of rabbits. Man enters the picture by handling the infected carcass, consuming tainted meat, or by the bite of an infected, bloodsucking fly or tick that has lived on infected rodents. The causative organisms are transmitted through the bite of thes insects.

Human infections occur in various forms, depending to a great extent upon the time of year and the way the disease is contacted. In 60 per cent of all cases, an ulcer arises at the site where the organism gained entrance to the body.

This is likely to be on the fingers or hand, especially in the winter time when contact is made with infected animals. In the summer months, insects are the most common vectors and ulcers are likely to arise on exposed parts of the body. The eye may become infected as a result of contact with hands or spattering of water while cleaning the animal.

Unless streptomycin is used, the victim is in for a prolonged illness with chills, fever, malaise, headache, and swollen, tender glands in the area nearest the site of the initial infection.

Our advice to hunters: Don't handle sick or dead wild animals and avoid shooting slow moving game. Such rabbits are likely to be infected with tularemia. It is advisable also to discard any carcass in which there are enlarged glands or peculiar whitish spots on the insides.

RHEUMATIC HEART

J. M. writes: How does a doctor determine whether a person has rheumatic heart?

REPLY

There is no question about the diagnosis when the individual has had rheumatic fever and develops the murmurs and changes in heart contour that are associated with valvular damage. Diagnosis is less certain if there is no history of rheumatic fever or other strep infections unless the murmurs are typical of the heart lesions usually produced by rheumatic fever.

HEADACHES

O. M. writes: I have had migraine for years. Do these headaches stop as you get older? Could eating ice cream or drinking cold pop bring on migraine?

REPLY

In women, migraine usually ceases after the menopause. The headache that follows drinking ice water or eating ice cream is not migraine. It is a reflex that originates in the palate and is felt in the head.

HIP PAIN

A. S. writes: Periodically lately, I have been getting pain in the hip; can't tell whether it is in the bone or muscle. I would like you to suggest some causes of this condition.

REPLY

Arthritis, myositis, injury, tumors, bursitis, and synovitis are among the possibilities. X-rays and a thorough examination would be needed to make the diagnosis.

A RASH

V. I. writes: Please describe fifth disease, how long it lasts, and the treatment.

REPLY

This whimsical term is given to a disorder that resembles four other ailments: Measles, German measles, scarlet fever, and roseola infantum. It lasts four days and is over on the fifth.

TOMORROW: A soil fungus in the city.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

An American tourist fell in love with Montego Bay in Jamaica and decided to build a villa of his own there—offering overtime pay if it could be finished quickly. The contractor got it finished in record time — but the American found one thing missing when he moved in: there was no railing to the stairway. An army of native carpenters rushed out to the house immediately and built a railing in three hours flat. Two hours later the railing collapsed. The outraged owner called the contractor to raise more Cain. "Don't get so excited," soothed the contractor. "Remember, nothing lasts forever."

A friend once brought Picasso three paintings to sign. Picasso refused, declaring that all three were palpable fakes. "But," protested the exasperated friend, "I saw you paint these pictures with my own eyes." Picasso's unabashed answer was, "I can paint fake Picassos just as well as anybody."

THE BRIDGE OF SIGNS:

In the reading room of a Pittsburgh public library: "No children aloud" . . . In a downtown bar and grille: "Mother-in-law special plate: cold shoulder and tongue" . . . In a Victorian cottage along Route 22: "Antiques. Will haggle" . . . On the letterhead of a speakers' bureau: "Have lectures, Will gavel" . . . In a Waukegan garage: "Our auto fixin', is bettern our sign paintin'."

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

J. Edgar Hoover reminds me of a high abbot in a monastery of gunmen. He works in dignity and silence, and yet, on the occasions when he is recognized in public, Hoover is friendly and warm. Then, back to the monastery and the work of guarding the nation from the sneaks, the saboteurs, the spies, the big interstate criminals, and the rosary of brass knuckles.

He has been the boss of the Federal Bureau of Investigation for almost 40 years. In that time, he has become an expert on Communist in its most blatant, and most subtle forms. No man within my knowledge knows as much about the subject. At the age of 67, the bachelor chieftain of the G-men is finding time to write books.

This is good, because what he writes amounts to a sharing of his knowledge with all of us. Twenty years went by after his first book, "Persons in Hiding" was published. Few remember it. Then came "Masters of Deceit," the story of Communism in America. This was published by Holt in 1958 and became a best seller.

Next week, a new one will be in the bookshops. It is called "A Study of Communism" and, for those who would like to know the history of Communism, from Marx to Khrushchev, in addition to the story of what the Reds are doing in the United States, the book is nourishing reading.

Once, a long time ago, I came across an itemized bill of the assistance the U. S. gave to bleeding, dying Russia in World War II. Since then, I have been unable to find it. Hoover has it listed, all on page 129 of the new book. It is important to know what we have done for our war-time allies, the people who now promise to bury us.

We sent the Russians 7,000 tanks; 14,000 planes; 8,000 tractors. Also 135,000 machine guns, one billion dollars worth of heavy machinery and 100 merchant ships. They also signed receipts for 8,000 anti-aircraft guns, 2,000 railroad locomotives and 200 torpedo boats. We sent 300,000 tons of explosives, 10,000 freight cars and 100 submarine chasers.

Trucks? 400,000 of those; 8,000 marine diesel engines and 100,000 railroad wheels and axles in case any of the rolling stock broke down on the Russian railways. Oh yes, Jeeps. 50,000 of these amazing 4-wheeled ruffians; 500,000 tons of rails and 600,000 tons of chemical products, including much medicine to keep Russians alive.

Add to this 35,000 motorcycles, 400,000 field telephones and 150 million yards of cotton and woolens. The Russians complained that the trucks and Jeeps needed rubber, so Uncle Sam sent 17,000,000 tires. They wanted telephone wire to go with their field telephones, so 1,250,000 miles of it was sent.

Their soldiers were without boots, so we—who were busy with our own war effort—shipped 15,000,000 pairs. Almost everything sent was shipped from eastern U. S. ports to Great Britain and, from there, along the northern route to Murmansk. My brother-in-law, Emil Steencken, was one of thousands of American sailors who volunteered to man these ships.

The German U-boats and JU-88's used to wait for these slow, heavily laden ships near North Cape, Norway. This is in latitude 71 north. There was no other way to Murmansk except around that cape, and the Germans picked off the rusty freighters at leisure.

When a ship was sunk destroyers looked for survivors at high speed. It was a pointless task, because, in 60 degrees below zero, a sailor couldn't live for more than three minutes. The other day, I asked Emil about it. He is a giant of a man and he seldom frowns.

"Don't mention it," he said. "When we made port, with guns and ammo and food, the Russians told us we could stretch our legs on one side of the street, but not the other. I got mad. I said 'What the hell's going on on the other side of the street?' The Russian soldiers just said 'No.' I wish we had said no to them a few years earlier."

J. Edgar Hoover, in his "A Study of Communism," says that the bill for the items the United States sent to the Soviet Union amounts to $11,141,470,000. This is the greatest bad debt of all time. It comes to $171 apiece for every working person in this country. Thus, Emil Steencken not only delivered the goods, but must help to pay for it.

President At The Bargaining Table

Whatever the administration's professed aversion to deciding labor disputes, it has been moving steadily toward the head of the bargaining table.

Automobile, steel and shipping industries and even the Metropolitan Opera have encountered new government pressures at contract-writing time, and now the aerospace industry is virtually ordered to accept union demands for the union shop.

Inasmuch as the aerospace companies involved depend largely on government contracts to stay in business, the union shop demand by their biggest customer invites no backtalk. President Kennedy bases his demand on the recommendations of a three-man board headed by Dr. George W. Taylor of the University of Pennsylvania, and as in all other recent labor disputes, the government justifies it on grounds of national interest.

But Mr. Kennedy's edict reaches far beyond the aerospace dispute. For the President has more or less declared the controversial question of compulsory union membership to be the public policy, at least where government contracts are involved. This is government involvement in the labor-management field that goes beyond the realistic "guidelines" for wages and productivity staked out for automobiles, steel and railroads.

Industry is not chronically unaware of the national interest — and may, in fact, at times define it more accurately than men occupationally sensitive to the eddies and whirlpools of politics. The threat of an aerospace strike is serious business, but so is this attempt by government to dictate a policy that will reach far beyond the aerospace industry.

"After they've come to work, if it is the opinion of a large majority of the measures, then they would join the union. This, as I say, has been acceptable for many years to many companies which are even larger than the ones that are involved."

The President went on to say that he hoped the companies would accept the proposal "because, if there is a strike, the responsibility would be very clear. I think, to the American people for such an action."

Thus a President of the United States says, in effect, that a labor union may extort an advantage for itself—even though it violates human rights—and that, rather than bear the cost of a strike or its inconvenience, the American people must surrender to expediency and forego the principle of human freedom.

Now, the "union shop" is, to be sure, a part of the process of collective bargaining. So are blackmail and coercion and the threat to destroy an employer's business if he doesn't accept the union's demands.

But recently the country has been hearing a lot about the third party—the public—and much has been said about the "public interest." Does a form of compulsory unionization become right just because company after company has been forced in the past by coercive threats of strikes and financial loss to give in to union demands? Hasn't the President argued often that freedom of belief and freedom of conscience are guaranteed under "the law of the land"?

The right of an individual to get a job and keep it without sacrificing his beliefs—by being forced to join any organization in whose purposes he does not believe—is inherent in the Articles of the Constitution.

The argument of the labor unions is that the majority of the employees in a plant is the boss and can tell each worker to join or be fired. The worker isn't required to be a member when he applies, but if he gets the job, he must decide within 30 or 60 days whether to join the union or lose his job. The employer, under a contract with the union, becomes an unwilling partner in the conspiracy to deprive the worker of his right not to join a private organization. Nineteen states by law forbid compulsory unionization of any kind. These are called "right to work" laws.

Recognizing the injustice of compulsion, some unions have asked only for the "agency shop," which means that the non-union employe renders financial support by regular payments that help cover the cost of the bargaining done in his behalf—the equivalent of union dues. But the worker doesn't have to join the union. Even this partial removal of the flaw in the compulsory union system was not espoused by President Kennedy when he talked last week to his news conference. For most of the labor leaders are against the "agency shop," too.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

POLITICIANS — We have long insisted that politicians are human beings. And we've got a story to prove it!

Sen. Paul Douglas, of Illinois, recently planned a warm reception for 17 members of the Kankakee Little League baseball team that had won the state championship. They were due in his Senate office at mid-morning and Douglas sent out for some de luxe hamburgers to delight the kids with.

But something slipped. The kids dropped by the office of the other Senator from Illinois, Everett Dirksen, who served up a passel of snacks he had rustled up for them. And there was Douglas, alone in his office with a bunch of hot, but cooling hamburgers.

Politicians are resourceful. Douglas called in his assistant and had him take the load of goodies to a nearby fountain where kids of the city's streets swim illegally during the sultry Washington summer months.

The senator's assistant and his load of hamburgers arrived on the scene just in time to witness the kids being scooted from the fountain by a local cop. But he prevailed on the policeman to delay their departure long enough for them to consume the gift of food.

Douglas was happy for being a disappointed host. He likes both kids and hamburgers, and, by a coincidence, it was his father-in-law, Lorado Taft, who had sculptured the fountain where his hamburgers found those grateful youngsters.

Secret House-Senate Debate Will Provide Puzzle For Supreme Court

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—A secret debate inside the House-Senate conference on college education has contrived to hand the Supreme Court a hodge-podge to unravel.

After three hours of haggling over federal aid to colleges and separation of church and state, nobody quite knew what the final result would be except for one thing—the buck has been passed to the Supreme Court.

The chief issue, deadlocking House and Senate conferees for four months, was whether to give outright grants to religious and private colleges. The House was adamant for grants, not to be repaid to the Treasury. The Senate argued that these violated the constitutional separation of church and state. It voted for loans. Even loans, some Senators felt, might violate the Constitution.

Although the federal money would go to any religious colleges, whether Protestant or Catholic, the majority of the religious colleges which would benefit are Catholic. Furthermore, Catholic pressure to pass the House bill has been heavy. There has been no pressure from Protestants.

One of the backstage pressure-putters has been gaunt, gray Speaker John McCormack of Boston, once called by Kennedy "the Bishop of Boston." John has been phoning Senators asking them to vote out a bill giving outright grants to religious colleges.

Hodge-Podge Compromise

When the showdown came behind closed doors this week, the Republican Senators lined up solidly behind aid to Catholic colleges. GOP Senators were: Goldwater, Ariz., Prouty, Vt., and Javits, N. Y. Jewish voters in New York have been strong for separation of church and state, brought the famous prayer case in Long Island on which the Supreme Court ruled recently. Javits, however, voted in secret against members of his own faith.

The compromise, hammered out after long closed-door haggling, was:

1. To permit outright grants up to $1.5 billion to religious schools to build buildings for science, libraries, and engineering. This is considered national defense, not religion. Some Senators, however, argued that this merely permitted religious colleges to use federal funds for science and engineering, then divert the money thus saved for religious teaching.

2. To permit total scholarships up to $600,000,000 to students of both public and religious colleges, with 20 per cent forgiveness to worthy students.

The money is to be spent over a five-year period.

Remarked one Senator: "It's a jumbled compromise, and the Supreme Court will probably rule it all unconstitutional."

Remarked one Congressman: "But by the time the Supreme Court rules out religious colleges, they will have spent their money and no court ruling is retroactive. The money will not have to be paid back."

Behind The Scenes

Some Michigan newspapers played up the fact that George Romney, GOP candidate for governor, walked in the Detroit Labor Day procession, while Gov. John B. Swainson and Sen. Pat McNamara, Democrats, rode in an open car. They overlooked two facts: Pat McNamara, now aged 67, has been recovering from a cancer operation. Gov. Swainson had two legs shot off in the war . . . During the war, Romney got a fat salary as head of the Automobile Manufacturers Association. Swainson enlisted as a GI . . . Erna Grunewald Russell, daughter of the late Henry Grunewald, "the mystery man," is collecting her father's papers with a view to writing his biography. Some of her father's friends are getting jittery . . . When Protestant subordinates suppressed a Public Health Service report on birth control—as a result of Congressional and some religious pressure —Tony Celebrezze, first Catholic Secretary of HEW, decided to publish it . . . Millions of fish have been dying in the Potomac River as a result of the drought and low water. Yet upstream land-holders continue to resist reservoirs which would give the Potomac an even flow of water . . . Ken Galbraith, brilliant, erudite ambassador to India, is returning to Harvard. The University refused to extend his leave of absence, told him to decide whether he wanted to be an ambassador or a professor. He decided to go back to professoring.

Continuing Mail Scandal

The highwaymen who pulled off the great Massachusetts mail robbery don't know it, but they were not as smart as they might have been. If they had made their strike one week earlier, they would have picked up twice as much cash—$3,000,000 instead of the $1,551,227 which they got.

The Republican Congressional committee recently issued a newsletter attributing the robbery to the fact that the Massachusetts state police were so busy guarding the President's family that they had no men to police the highway.

It so happens that the President and all his family were away at the time except for his aged father who was in a wheel chair at Hyannis Port. Furthermore, Postmaster General Day has a letter, dated July 18, confirming "the agreed upon procedure" that the "state police will alert patrols along the route of travel."

Some 125 persons knew the basic facts—knew to the split second just when the mail truck would pass along the 85-mile route. Yet, according to Post Office testimony, the state police never had "this particular truck under surveillance during this trip."

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

J. Edgar Hoover reminds me of a high abbot in a monastery of gunmen. He works in dignity and silence, and yet, on the occasions when he is recognized in public, Hoover is friendly and warm. Then, back to the monastery and the work of guarding the nation from the sneaks, the saboteurs, the spies, the big interstate criminals, and the rosary of brass knuckles.

He has been the boss of the Federal Bureau of Investigation for almost 40 years. In that time, he has become an expert on Communist in its most blatant, and most subtle forms. No man within my knowledge knows as much about the subject. At the age of 67, the bachelor chieftain of the G-men is finding time to write books.

This is good, because what he writes amounts to a sharing of his knowledge with all of us. Twenty years went by after his first book, "Persons in Hiding" was published. Few remember it. Then came "Masters of Deceit," the story of Communism in America. This was published by Holt in 1958 and became a best seller.

Next week, a new one will be in the bookshops. It is called "A Study of Communism" and, for those who would like to know the history of Communism, from Marx to Khrushchev, in addition to the story of what the Reds are doing in the United States, the book is nourishing reading.

Once, a long time ago, I came across an itemized bill of the assistance the U. S. gave to bleeding, dying Russia in World War II. Since then, I have been unable to find it. Hoover has it listed, all on page 129 of the new book. It is important to know what we have done for our war-time allies, the people who now promise to bury us.

We sent the Russians 7,000 tanks; 14,000 planes; 8,000 tractors. Also 135,000 machine guns, one billion dollars worth of heavy machinery and 100 merchant ships. They also signed receipts for 8,000 anti-aircraft guns, 2,000 railroad locomotives and 200 torpedo boats. We sent 300,000 tons of explosives, 10,000 freight cars and 100 submarine chasers.

Trucks? 400,000 of those; 8,000 marine diesel engines and 100,000 railroad wheels and axles in case any of the rolling stock broke down on the Russian railways. Oh yes, Jeeps. 50,000 of these amazing 4-wheeled ruffians; 500,000 tons of rails and 600,000 tons of chemical products, including much medicine to keep Russians alive.

Add to this 35,000 motorcycles, 400,000 field telephones and 150 million yards of cotton and woolens. The Russians complained that the trucks and Jeeps needed rubber, so Uncle Sam sent 17,000,000 tires. They wanted telephone wire to go with their field telephones, so 1,250,000 miles of it was sent.

Their soldiers were without boots, so we—who were busy with our own war effort—shipped 15,000,000 pairs. Almost everything sent was shipped from eastern U. S. ports to Great Britain and, from there, along the northern route to Murmansk. My brother-in-law, Emil Steencken, was one of thousands of American sailors who volunteered to man these ships.

The German U-boats and JU-88's used to wait for these slow, heavily laden ships near North Cape, Norway. This is in latitude 71 north. There was no other way to Murmansk except around that cape, and the Germans picked off the rusty freighters at leisure.

When a ship was sunk destroyers looked for survivors at high speed. It was a pointless task, because, in 60 degrees below zero, a sailor couldn't live for more than three minutes. The other day, I asked Emil about it. He is a giant of a man and he seldom frowns.

"Don't mention it," he said. "When we made port, with guns and ammo and food, the Russians told us we could stretch our legs on one side of the street, but not the other. I got mad. I said 'What the hell's going on on the other side of the street?' The Russian soldiers just said 'No.' I wish we had said no to them a few years earlier."

J. Edgar Hoover, in his "A Study of Communism," says that the bill for the items the United States sent to the Soviet Union amounts to $11,141,470,000. This is the greatest bad debt of all time. It comes to $171 apiece for every working person in this country. Thus, Emil Steencken not only delivered the goods, but must help to pay for it.

Hunters: Take Precautions With Wild Life

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Tularemia usually is associated with hunting and the skinning of wild animals, especially the cottontail and wild hare. Prevention is almost entirely a matter of personal precautions. Hunters must be careful in areas where the disease is known to exist. Butchers and housewives ought to wear rubber gloves when handling wild rabbits.

Tularemia is chiefly a disease of wild animals, including squirrels, woodchucks, foxes, and coyotes, as well as of rabbits. Man enters the picture by handling the infected carcass, consuming tainted meat, or by the bite of an infected, bloodsucking fly or tick that has lived on infected rodents. The causative organisms are transmitted through the bite of thes insects.

Human infections occur in various forms, depending to a great extent upon the time of year and the way the disease is contacted. In 60 per cent of all cases, an ulcer arises at the site where the organism gained entrance to the body.

This is likely to be on the fingers or hand, especially in the winter time when contact is made with infected animals. In the summer months, insects are the most common vectors and ulcers are likely to arise on exposed parts of the body. The eye may become infected as a result of contact with hands or spattering of water while cleaning the animal.

Unless streptomycin is used, the victim is in for a prolonged illness with chills, fever, malaise, headache, and swollen, tender glands in the area nearest the site of the initial infection.

Our advice to hunters: Don't handle sick or dead wild animals and avoid shooting slow moving game. Such rabbits are likely to be infected with tularemia. It is advisable also to discard any carcass in which there are enlarged glands or peculiar whitish spots on the insides.

RHEUMATIC HEART

J. M. writes: How does a doctor determine whether a person has rheumatic heart?

REPLY

There is no question about the diagnosis when the individual has had rheumatic fever and develops the murmurs and changes in heart contour that are associated with valvular damage. Diagnosis is less certain if there is no history of rheumatic fever or other strep infections unless the murmurs are typical of the heart lesions usually produced by rheumatic fever.

HEADACHES

O. M. writes: I have had migraine for years. Do these headaches stop as you get older? Could eating ice cream or drinking cold pop bring on migraine?

REPLY

In women, migraine usually ceases after the menopause. The headache that follows drinking ice water or eating ice cream is not migraine. It is a reflex that originates in the palate and is felt in the head.

HIP PAIN

A. S. writes: Periodically lately, I have been getting pain in the hip; can't tell whether it is in the bone or muscle. I would like you to suggest some causes of this condition.

REPLY

Arthritis, myositis, injury, tumors, bursitis, and synovitis are among the possibilities. X-rays and a thorough examination would be needed to make the diagnosis.

A RASH

V. I. writes: Please describe fifth disease, how long it lasts, and the treatment.

REPLY

This whimsical term is given to a disorder that resembles four other ailments: Measles, German measles, scarlet fever, and roseola infantum. It lasts four days and is over on the fifth.

TOMORROW: A soil fungus in the city.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

An American tourist fell in love with Montego Bay in Jamaica and decided to build a villa of his own there—offering overtime pay if it could be finished quickly. The contractor got it finished in record time — but the American found one thing missing when he moved in: there was no railing to the stairway. An army of native carpenters rushed out to the house immediately and built a railing in three hours flat. Two hours later the railing collapsed. The outraged owner called the contractor to raise more Cain. "Don't get so excited," soothed the contractor. "Remember, nothing lasts forever."

A friend once brought Picasso three paintings to sign. Picasso refused, declaring that all three were palpable fakes. "But," protested the exasperated friend, "I saw you paint these pictures with my own eyes." Picasso's unabashed answer was, "I can paint fake Picassos just as well as anybody."

THE BRIDGE OF SIGNS:

In the reading room of a Pittsburgh public library: "No children aloud" . . . In a downtown bar and grille: "Mother-in-law special plate: cold shoulder and tongue" . . . In a Victorian cottage along Route 22: "Antiques. Will haggle" . . . On the letterhead of a speakers' bureau: "Have lectures, Will gavel" . . . In a Waukegan garage: "Our auto fixin', is bettern our sign paintin'."

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—No young actor has scored more effectively than Robert Walker, Jr., son of the late Robert Walker and Jennifer Jones. After the Perlberg-Seaton movie "The Hook" was shown in which Bob had an important part, he's slated to go into "Twilight of the Gods" which Perlberg-Seaton will put into production the end of the year.

Meanwhile, young Bob is straying from the fold at MGM where the "Dr. Kildare" TV series is filmed, to appear in one of the "Ben Casey" shows. Bob looks like his father, and has the talent of both Jennifer and Walker, Sr.

Stephen Boyd has had a change of heart and instead of being in Hollywood for only one day when he arrives here in October, he'll stay for six weeks. He's decided he would rather spend that time in his new house than hang around Europe waiting for "The Fall of the Roman Empire" to begin.

MGM is trying to get Steve to fit a picture before he starts "Roman Empire" because of tremendous "Jumbo" excitement. He just finished "The Imperial Venus" with Gina Lollobrigida, who wears millions of dollars worth of jewelry in the movie in her role as a member of Napoleon's family.

Jane Fonda, who seems to get herself in trouble every time she opens her mouth, will be too busy to make any cracks about Hollywood and other matters. She's going to play the leading lady in the movie "Hanno's Doll" in New York during the day, and she'll co-star with Brad Dillman in "The Fun Couple" on Broadway by night. So she will be working from dawn to sundown.

The movie will be produced by Elliott Kastner and Stan Spetner, and will be filmed entirely in New York.

One thing about Jane — she's young and she'll learn.

I called Kay Gable to inquire about the health of my godson John Clark. She said he vamped all the old ladies while they were in Hawaii.

"How about your love life?" I asked Kay.

"I haven't any," she said. "Some of my friends say I live with a ghost. But I'd rather live with a ghost than to marry someone who is unsuited to me and my way of life. It will be two years in November since Clark's death. It doesn't seem that long, yet in many ways it seems longer."

Kay told me that John Clark's hair is getting lighter, but his personality is exactly like Clark's.

It's bad news for George Maharis where Inger Stevens is concerned. "I have nothing against George," said the Swedish charmer on the set of "The Eleventh Hour," the TV show she's filming at MGM, "but I shall never, never marry an actor. I have nothing against actors as actors, but I do against actors as husbands."

This just isn't George's year, except for the success he's made as a co-star on the "Route 66" TV series. First, he was bedded with a severe attack of hepatitis. And now the girl whom he says is "The only girl in the world for me" puts out this kind of a bulletin!

Big night in our town Friday night. The highly successful tour of "The Wonderful World of Music" with Jane Powell, Vic Damone, Jimmy McHugh and Stan Kenton winds up with a performance at the Hollywood Bowl. The Fred Haymans are hosting a birthday party for Cobina Wright, and Milton Berle and Phil Silvers are throwing a wingding for Ethel Merman.

Jerry Lewis is hosting a dinner party at his cafe after the showing of the broadcast he made at the El Capitan Theatre for the benefit of muscular dystrophy.

Many will go to the Bowl first, before attending the Cobina Wright party, and the Berle-Silvers affair.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

All of fashion designer Molly Parnis' friends are delighted with her romance with historian-author Stefan Lorant (an expert on Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt). Looks like Molly will soon be designing her own wedding gown.

Mike Romanoff had an unexpected trip to New York when he went to the airport to see Frank Sinatra off. Frankie got him on the plane and kept him there. So Mike left without a toothbrush or extra spare of anything.

Steve Cochran had a narrow escape when he tried out a water ski kite at Ensenada. He took it up 100 feet in the air and came crashing to the water, narrowly missing an anchored boat. Steve was knocked unconscious, and rushed to a hospital, but suffered no serious effects.

Eleanor Lambert arrives the 30th for a look at California fashions. She'll spend the weekend with Anita and Tom May at their Lido Isle Beach home, then headquarters at Merle Oberon's house. I doubt that Merle will be back from Europe by then.

I called Kay Gable to inquire about the health of my godson John Clark. She said he vamped all the old ladies while they were in Hawaii.

"How about your love life?" I asked Kay.

"I haven't any," she said. "Some of my friends say I live with a ghost. But I'd rather live with a ghost than to marry someone who is unsuited to me and my way of life. It will be two years in November since Clark's death. It doesn't seem that long, yet in many ways it seems longer."

Kay told me that John Clark's hair is getting lighter, but his personality is exactly like Clark's.

It's bad news for George Maharis where Inger Stevens is concerned. "I have nothing against George," said the Swedish charmer on the set of "The Eleventh Hour," the TV show she's filming at MGM, "but I shall never, never marry an actor. I have nothing against actors as actors, but I do against actors as husbands."

This just isn't George's year, except for the success he's made as a co-star on the "Route 66" TV series. First, he was bedded with a severe attack of hepatitis. And now the girl whom he says is "The only girl in the world for me" puts out this kind of a bulletin!

Big night in our town Friday night. The highly successful tour of "The Wonderful World of Music" with Jane Powell, Vic Damone, Jimmy McHugh and Stan Kenton winds up with a performance at the Hollywood Bowl. The Fred Haymans are hosting a birthday party for Cobina Wright, and Milton Berle and Phil Silvers are throwing a wingding for Ethel Merman.

Jerry Lewis is hosting a dinner party at his cafe after the showing of the broadcast he made at the El Capitan Theatre for the benefit of muscular dystrophy.

Many will go to the Bowl first, before attending the Cobina Wright party, and the Berle-Silvers affair.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

All of fashion designer Molly Parnis' friends are delighted with her romance with historian-author Stefan Lorant (an expert on Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt). Looks like Molly will soon be designing her own wedding gown.

Mike Romanoff had an unexpected trip to New York when he went to the airport to see Frank Sinatra off. Frankie got him on the plane and kept him there. So Mike left without a toothbrush or extra spare of anything.

Steve Cochran had a narrow escape when he tried out a water ski kite at Ensenada. He took it up 100 feet in the air and came crashing to the water, narrowly missing an anchored boat. Steve was knocked unconscious, and rushed to a hospital, but suffered no serious effects.

Eleanor Lambert arrives the 30th for a look at California fashions. She'll spend the weekend with Anita and Tom May at their Lido Isle Beach home, then headquarters at Merle Oberon's house. I doubt that Merle will be back from Europe by then.

MS Patients Spend 2 Weeks At Camp

A local woman was among a group of patients of Maryland Chapter, National Multiple Sclerosis Society, recently returned from a two-week vacation at Camp Greentop located near Thurmont. It is operated by the Baltimore League for Crippled Children.

Mrs. Virginia Ray, 22 Pennsylvania Avenue, attended from this area.

The camp is one of the services provided by the league for patients, and is also available to other health organizations as facilities permit, and is an example of the cooperation that exists among chapters of various health agencies in Maryland.

The multiple sclerosis victims' expenses were underwritten by the Maryland Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. Funds were raised at various events including an all-night telethon last year and a door-to-door march conducted in Baltimore and surrounding areas.

Of the contributions collected in Maryland, 60 per cent sustain year-round patient aids and activities such as this. The other 40 per cent aids in supporting a world-wide research program conducted by the National Society.

Multiple sclerosis is primarily a disease of young adults for which the cause and cure have not been found. It attacks the insulating fibers of the central nervous system and normally manifests itself in double vision, a staggering gait, and progressive paralysis of the entire system.

Internal Revenue collections rose from $7.4 billion in 1941 to $45 billion in 1945, the height of World War II.

The short form income tax return 1040A was adopted in 1941, tax withholding (pay as-you-go) in 1943, and the standard deduction in 1944.

Democrats To Hear Talk By Rep. Boggs

KEYSER — Congressman Hale Boggs of Louisiana has been tentatively scheduled to give the principal address at the pre-election Dinner to be sponsored here by the Mineral County Democratic Club on Tuesday, October 2, at the Keyser Fire Hall at 6:30 p.m.

Boggs is the third-ranking member of the House of Representatives and is expected to be a drawing-card for party dignitaries from throughout the state, according to Joseph Stanislawczyk, who will be general chairman of the arrangements committee.

Various other groups have been appointed to work on the details of the event which was outlined at a special called meeting of the club last Monday night with Mrs. I. W. Matlick, president, in charge. Mrs. Elizabeth Whisner was appointed ticket chairman for the dinner.

Mrs. Matlick and Mrs. Arnold L. Stanhagen, who along with vice-president, Mrs. Bruce Bradford, attended the pre-election convention and workshop in Fairmont last weekend, spoke on the program sponsored by the First Congressional District at the Fairmont Hotel.

Also attending from Mineral County was Jack Canfield, Keyser, of Radio Station WCLG, Morgantown, who was there to cover the talk of Hon. Carl Albert, of Oklahoma, majority leader of the House of Representatives, who gave the main address.

Men's, Girls' Singers Rehearse Tonight

R. Monroe Harris is director for both choruses.

Both groups have opening for any one interested in becoming a member. Mrs. Eva Hogan said the emphasis is on singing for enjoyment rather than on a professional scale. Members must be seniors in high school or older.

LIMERICK, Ireland (AP)—Quadruplets—three boys and a girl—were born Thursday to Mrs. Thomas Peppard, wife of a news dealer, at a Limerick nursing home.

Battlefield Land Presented U.S.

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall accepted Thursday the gift of 264 acres of battlefield land as additions to the Gettysburg National Military Park.

The land, a 102-acre farm and a 162-acre farm, was purchased by the late W. Alton Jones, oil company executive and associate of former president Dwight D. Eisenhower. It was presented to the government by Mrs. Jones. Jones lived at Easton, Md.

The presentation was made at brief ceremonies conducted near the historic Gettysburg battlefield.

Gen. and Mrs. Eisenhower were on hand for the ceremony, but the former president did not address the group.

The farms are immediately west of Seminary Ridge, adjoining the park's present western boundary, near where some of the bitterest fighting in the Battle of Gettysburg took place in July, 1863.

From 1868 to 1913, nearly 90 per cent of internal revenue came from taxes on distilled spirits, tobacco, and fermented liquor.

President Will Open Campaign In Wheeling

Kennedy To Boost For Rep. Bailey

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—President John F. Kennedy will launch his 1962 campaigning on behalf of Democratic members of Congress at a statewide rally Sept. 27 in Wheeling, a key city in the heated 1st District race.

A joint announcement by Democratic National Chairman John Bailey and State Democratic chairman Robert McDonough said the President would fly to Wheeling to speak on behalf of West Virginia Democratic members of the House of Representatives.

Democratic congressman Cleveland Bailey is opposing Republican Congressman Arch Moore for the right to represent the realigned 1st District.

"We are honored that the President has decided to open his campaign activities by returning to a state which has played a prominent role in his political career," McDonough said.

Kennedy won the pivotal West Virginia primary in 1960, defeating Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., in a landslide vote that was considered the key to his winning the Democratic nomination at the Los Angeles convention.

The issue at stake then was Kennedy's religion and the results of the Mountain State popularity poll primary it was felt gave him the edge.

McDonough said Democratic groups from throughout the state will attend the rally by chartered buses and automobile caravans.

"I know West Virginia will demonstrate by the tremendous reception which the President will receive at Wheeling that it feels that the President deserves in this election a renewal of the mandate he received in 1960 to get America on the move," McDonough said.

All West Virginia Democratic members of the House are up for re-election but the hottest battle is in the 1st District.

Bailey has represented West Virginia in Congress for 16 years while Moore has been in the House since 1956. Moore, an acknowledged vote getter, has battered down Democratic opposition during three previous election campaigns despite the Democrats' 60 per cent registered majority.

President Will Open Campaign In Wheeling

Kennedy To Boost For Rep. Bailey

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—President John F. Kennedy will launch his 1962 campaigning on behalf of Democratic members of Congress at a statewide rally Sept. 27 in Wheeling, a key city in the heated 1st District race.

A joint announcement by Democratic National Chairman John Bailey and State Democratic chairman Robert McDonough said the President would fly to Wheeling to speak on behalf of West Virginia Democratic members of the House of Representatives.

Democratic congressman Cleveland Bailey is opposing Republican Congressman Arch Moore for the right to represent the realigned 1st District.

"We are honored that the President has decided to open his campaign activities by returning to a state which has played a prominent role in his political career," McDonough said.

Kennedy won the pivotal West Virginia primary in 1960, defeating Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., in a landslide vote that was considered the key to his winning the Democratic nomination at the Los Angeles convention.

The issue at stake then was Kennedy's religion and the results of the Mountain State popularity poll primary it was felt gave him the edge.

McDonough said Democratic groups from throughout the state will attend the rally by chartered buses and automobile caravans.

"I know West Virginia will demonstrate by the tremendous reception which the President will receive at Wheeling that it feels that the President deserves in this election a renewal of the mandate he received in 1960 to get America on the move," McDonough said.

Salvation Army Leader To Aid CUF Campaign

The head of one of County United Fund's largest agencies, Salvation Army, will serve as chairman of the east county area in the sixth and biggest CPF campaign, it was announced yesterday by Alvin H. Wilson, general campaign chairman.

He is Major Ben Jones, who is in charge of the local Salvation Army headquarters.

Communities composing the east county area, for which a goal of $1,010 has been set, are Ridgeley, Wiley Ford, Oldtown, Flintstone, Fort Ashby, Cresaptown and Ellerslie.

Major Jones, serving in his first County United Fund leadership capacity, said he will soon be naming his top aides as the East County area does its part to put a dent in the overall $406,067 goal.

In accepting the appointment, Major Jones remarked: "I really expect no difficulty in meeting our area goal, especially as we convey to residents of these areas the many wonders that can be worked by CUF gifts.

"I know the wonders," Major Jones continued, "because the Salvation Army has had first hand experience with United Givers' and we have seen the true value and efficiency of the United Way."

Potomac State Dormitory Work Begins

KEYSER — Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new residence hall for women at Potomac State College took place Wednesday afternoon and excavation work got underway yesterday by the R. & W. Contracting Excavators of Clairton, Pa.

The new dormitory will be a red brick, three-story building near State Street, adjacent to Reynolds Hall, the present dormitory for women. In addition to 50 double bedrooms, which will accommodate 100 women, there will be a recreation room, reception lounge, laundry and storage area and office, a small infirmary, desk room, and housemother's apartment. The building will also feature a sun deck.

The first shovel of dirt was turned over by President E. E. Church as a contingent of college and civic officials as well as a group of campus students looked on. Among those present were Robert J. Bennett, architect; Mrs. Jane Bowie, executive assistant to Mr. Bennett, and Gene Ballard, engineer, all of Morgantown; R. S. Hummel, HHFA field engineer, Richmond, and representatives of Mellon-Stuart Company, Pittsburgh, which was awarded the general building contract.

Also present were William Sharpe and Thomas Sharpe, electrical contractors from Clarksburg; C. E. Wiedebusch, Jr., representing the plumbing and heating contractors from Morgantown; Dean K. S. McKee, Dr. Imogene Dever, Dean of Women; John Raschella, financial secretary; Thomas J. Conlon, president of the College Alumni Association; Mayor Richard E. Romig; Chester J. Compton, T. Warner Lowry, and Walter D. Tetrick, all of the Keyser - Mineral County Chamber of Commerce.

Preliminary planning for the building began in August of 1961 when President Church and Raschella visited the regional office of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency in Philadelphia to discuss the possibilities of obtaining a loan for the new dormitory.

When the Philadelphia meeting met with favor, a request was made of the Board of Governors of West Virginia University, the governing body of the college, to make preliminary application for the loan.

Dr. Church and Raschella received strong assistance from the Board of Governors, from Miss Louise Keener, comptroller and director of business affairs at WVU, and from the faculty of the University's College of Law. Full application was filed in the FHHA regional office January 23, 1962.

Application for the loan in the amount of $460,000 was formally approved early last May and was announced by Rep. Harley O. Staggers of Keyser.

Robert J. Bennett, the Morgantown architect who designed both the interior and exterior of the college Library, supplied the engineering data and drew up the plans.

Sewage System Survey Slated In Piedmont

PIEDMONT — Mayor Donald Mellor announced at the council meeting Tuesday, that Walter Park, representative of the Robert T. Regeister Engineering firm, Baltimore, would make topographical surveys soon concerning the new sewage system the town plans to install.

Mayor Mellor stated that specifications would be made and the firm would advertise for bids in about 30 days, possibly by November 1.

A sewage commission will then be appointed, including a registered engineer.

The work of blacktopping Hampshire Street has been completed and the water pipe ordered has been received. Installation of the pipe on Fisher Street will be made soon.

It was announced that the odor which caused many complaints Friday was caused by the fumes from a refuse dump which had been uncovered. The place has since been sprayed with chemicals.

The next meeting will be held October 2.

North Hagerstown At Allegany Tonight, Martinsburg Hosts Fort Hill

Highlanders, Beall Clash At Frostburg

Moorefield, Romney Head PVC Schedule; Ridgeley At Keyser

Scoreless in four successive games — two this season and a like number at the end of the 1961 campaign — Coach Ed Schwarz's Allegany High School gridders will try to shake off the horse collar when they engage North Hagerstown High School's Hubs in a Cumberland Valley Athletic League football game tonight at 8 o'clock at the local stadium.

Allegany's last victory was over Westminster High School on November 3, 1961. In that game, Allegany was leading 20-13 when the Owls walked off the field after protesting a decision and forfeited to the Campers.

Beall blanked Allegany, 6-0, and then Fort Hill whipped the Campobello team on Thanksgiving Day, 14-0.

This season, Allegany's string of scoreless quarters was extended to 16 after losing to Bishop Guilfoyle of Altoona, Pa., 13-0 and playing a 0-0 tie last weekend with Martinsburg.

North Hagerstown makes its first appearance under new coach William Orr, an Allegany countian, who took over the reins as successor to Mel Henry, whose teams won 55, lost 55 and played 10 tie games over 13 seasons.

The Hub City team has lost its last four engagements — two in 1961 and two this season. North lost its last two 1961 games to Chambersburg and South Hagerstown and fell before William Penn, of York, 33-6, and Westminster, 21-0, this season.

Fort Hill At Martinsburg

LaSalle High's Explorers are idle this weekend but unbeaten Fort Hill goes after its third straight victory of the campaign and its eighth consecutive triumph over Martinsburg since 1954 when the teams tangle in a C.V.A.L. game under lights at Martinsburg at 8:30 o'clock.

Coach Charley Lattimer's Sentinels belted LaSalle, 48-7, in the lid-lifter and followed up with a 35-12 decision over Bell Vocational School, of Washington, D. C. Fort Hill will be playing its first league game of the season tonight. The Bulldogs, coached by Dick Harmison, whiped Keyser 13-7 and fought to a scoreless dedalock with Allegany.

Four Potomac Valley Conference games are on tap today, headed by the battle between the old rivals, Moorefield and Romney at the latter place at 1:30 p. m.

Romney boasts a two-year winning streak of eleven games and won its P. V. C. opener from Franklin, 27-0, after knocking off the Charles Town Panthers, 15-0 in a non-league tilt. Romney shared the conference title with Keyser last season. Moorefield is 2-0 in the P. V. C. this season, having beaten Southern of Oakland, 13-6, and Petersburg, 20-7.

Beall High will be shooting for its third straight win of the season when it tackles Southern's Highlanders of Oakland tonight in a P. V. C. game in Frostburg at 8 p. m. The Garrett countians never have won over Beall in seven previous engagements. The Mountaineers whipped Petersburg in a league game, 13-12, in addition to a 25-19 decision over Meyersdale. Southern is 1-1 in the league with a 41-0 win over West Virginia Deaf and a loss at the hands of Moorefield.

Ridgeley Visits Keyser

Keyser, 1-1 in non-league contests, opens its P. V. C. season by playing host to the Ridgeley High Blackhawks at Keyser at 1:30 o'clock. Ridgeley downed Circleville, 18-12, in a league engagement and blanked Berkeley Springs, 14-0. Keyser bowed to Martinsburg and trimmed Charles Town, 20-13. Coach "Tack" Clark's Golden Tornado was 6-0 in the P. V. C. last season.

Franklin at the West Virginia School for the Deaf rounds out today's league card, meeting at Romney at 2:30 p. m.

Petersburg's Vikings, winless in three outings, play host to the Charles Town Panthers at 2 p. m., Circleville's Indians visit Green Bank and Berkeley Springs invades Virginia to meet Clarke County High at Berryville.

In Garrett county, Northern High's Huskies (1-1) entertain Terra Alta High School of Preston county at 1 p. m.

Shade-Central City visits Bedford High School's Bisons (1-1) tonight at 8 p. m.

Hahnmen At Frederick

In another nocturnal contest, Bill Hahn's Wheaton High gridders tackle the Frederick High Cadets at Frederick.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE CHAMPIONS — Midland's Old Exports, managed by Frank I. Buskirk, Jr., of Frostburg, have gone all the way in the Twilight Baseball League by winning the pennant and playoff title. Midland won two games from Barton and three out of four from Westernport to capture playoff honors after bagging the pennant with a 24-7 record. This is the first time since 1958 that the same team has won the league's double crown. The Midland squad, shown above, left to right: Mascot—Dennis Youngblood. Lown Gets Win In Relief Role

CHICAGO (UPI) —Jim Landis' sacrifice fly and Ed Bressoud's error on the relay gave the Chicago White Sox two runs in the eighth inning Thursday for a 6-4 win over the Boston Red Sox.

The White Sox rallied for four runs on two walks and a trio of doubles to tie the score in the sixth after the Red Sox had belted the Chicago starter, Joel Horlen, for four runs on six hits. The winning rally began when Arnold Earley, the third Red Sox pitcher, walked Al Smith and Al Weis singled.

Reliever Merlin Nippert took over and Sherm Lollar advanced both runners with a sacrifice. Deacon Jones was walked intentionally to fill the bases before Landis came up.

His hit was deep to center to score Smith easily and Weis tallied when Bressoud threw wild to second base, attempting to catch Jones.

Hebert, who replaces Father Bastress as assistant at St. Patrick's becomes moderator of the team at the North Centre Street school. Father Hebert comes here from Holy Trinity Church. Harold "Buck" Shober is head coach at St. Patrick's with John Weisenmiller as assistant.

Other coaches in the league are Norman F. Geatz, Jr., and Tom Grither, SS. Peter & Paul; Ronald "Rock" Ingram and Bob Murray, St. Mary's and John Ruffo, Bob Bisignano and Frank Peretti.

Each team will play a schedule of six league games.

The Rev. Regis Larkin, assistant pastor of St. Michael's Church, Frostburg, has been appointed C. Y. O. director for Western Maryland. Father Larkin announces that CYO athletic activities will be conducted on a statewide basis with the Allegany county competing in Baltimore for state honors. This will become effective with the 1962-63 basketball season as other sections of the state do not have football leagues.

Detroit Shortens Rope On Twins Flag Chances

Tigers Ring Up 5-1 Win; Yanks' Magic Number Is Four

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) —Minnesota handed Detroit three unearned runs in the first inning, and that was all right-handers Phil Regan and Terry Fox needed to subdue the Twins 5-1 on eight hits Thursday.

The outcome pushed the idle New York Yankees a notch closer to clinching another American League pennant.

Magic number for the Bombers to wrap it up is now four, with the Twins trailing by 4½ games. The Yankees have eight games left, the Twins seven.

Al Kaline helped Regan further shorten the rope on Minnesota's dim pennant chances. He slashed three hits, including his 28th home run — a one-season personal high for the classy Tiger outfielder.

Norm Cash also had a big hit, singling home two runs in the first inning burst from which the Twins never recovered.

Regan (11-9) thwarted seperal early Minnesota threats with clutch pitching. He struck out one and walked four. Fox relieved Regan in the ninth after two singles and protected the victory retiring three men in order.

Patriots, Denver Battle Heads AFL Schedule Sunday

BOSTON (UPI) — A collision between the league's hottest teams and a rematch of the annual championship playoff headline a full four-game American Football League program this weekend.

The Boston Patriots, upset winners over the defending Houston Oilers last Sunday, kick off the third round of games by hosting the surprisingly unbeaten Denver Broncos Friday night.

The weekend's real feature, however, sends the suddenly shaky Oilers to San Diego to face the same Chargers they have beaten twice in as many AFL title playoffs. The Chargers are favored by eight points.

In a single Saturday night game, the New York Titans are six-point underdogs while visiting winless Buffalo. On Sunday, the Dallas Texans are ten point picks at Oakland.

Funeral Of Texas Gridder Set Today

HOUSTON (UPI) — Reggie Grob, 19, the second Southwest Conference football player to die this month from heat stroke, will be buried Friday.

The University of Texas football squad and Longhorn coaches will go to Houston for the sophomore guard's funeral.

Grob suffered a heat stroke Sept. 1, the first day of football practice. He died Tuesday in Dallas from liver failure, one of several complications brought on by the heat stroke.

Yesterday, the Spring Branch High School, Grob's alma mater, renamed its football stadium in memory of Grob. Grob's younger brother, Charles, may play in Reggie Grob Stadium. Charles is on the junior varsity football squad at Spring Branch.

North Hagerstown At Allegany Tonight, Martinsburg Hosts Fort Hill

Moorefield, Romney Head PVC Schedule; Ridgeley At Keyser

Scoreless in four successive games — two this season and a like number at the end of the 1961 campaign — Coach Ed Schwarz's Allegany High School gridders will try to shake off the horse collar when they engage North Hagerstown High School's Hubs in a Cumberland Valley Athletic League football game tonight at 8 o'clock at the local stadium.

Allegany's last victory was over Westminster High School on November 3, 1961. In that game, Allegany was leading 20-13 when the Owls walked off the field after protesting a decision and forfeited to the Campers.

Beall blanked Allegany, 6-0, and then Fort Hill whipped the Campobello team on Thanksgiving Day, 14-0.

This season, Allegany's string of scoreless quarters was extended to 16 after losing to Bishop Guilfoyle of Altoona, Pa., 13-0 and playing a 0-0 tie last weekend with Martinsburg.

North Hagerstown makes its first appearance under new coach William Orr, an Allegany countian, who took over the reins as successor to Mel Henry, whose teams won 55, lost 55 and played 10 tie games over 13 seasons.

The Hub City team has lost its last four engagements — two in 1961 and two this season. North lost its last two 1961 games to Chambersburg and South Hagerstown and fell before William Penn, of York, 33-6, and Westminster, 21-0, this season.

Fort Hill At Martinsburg

LaSalle High's Explorers are idle this weekend but unbeaten Fort Hill goes after its third straight victory of the campaign and its eighth consecutive triumph over Martinsburg since 1954 when the teams tangle in a C.V.A.L. game under lights at Martinsburg at 8:30 o'clock.

Coach Charley Lattimer's Sentinels belted LaSalle, 48-7, in the lid-lifter and followed up with a 35-12 decision over Bell Vocational School, of Washington, D. C. Fort Hill will be playing its first league game of the season tonight. The Bulldogs, coached by Dick Harmison, whiped Keyser 13-7 and fought to a scoreless dedalock with Allegany.

Four Potomac Valley Conference games are on tap today, headed by the battle between the old rivals, Moorefield and Romney at the latter place at 1:30 p. m.

Romney boasts a two-year winning streak of eleven games and won its P. V. C. opener from Franklin, 27-0, after knocking off the Charles Town Panthers, 15-0 in a non-league tilt. Romney shared the conference title with Keyser last season. Moorefield is 2-0 in the P. V. C. this season, having beaten Southern of Oakland, 13-6, and Petersburg, 20-7.

Beall High will be shooting for its third straight win of the season when it tackles Southern's Highlanders of Oakland tonight in a P. V. C. game in Frostburg at 8 p. m. The Garrett countians never have won over Beall in seven previous engagements. The Mountaineers whipped Petersburg in a league game, 13-12, in addition to a 25-19 decision over Meyersdale. Southern is 1-1 in the league with a 41-0 win over West Virginia Deaf and a loss at the hands of Moorefield.

Ridgeley Visits Keyser

Keyser, 1-1 in non-league contests, opens its P. V. C. season by playing host to the Ridgeley High Blackhawks at Keyser at 1:30 o'clock. Ridgeley downed Circleville, 18-12, in a league engagement and blanked Berkeley Springs, 14-0. Keyser bowed to Martinsburg and trimmed Charles Town, 20-13. Coach "Tack" Clark's Golden Tornado was 6-0 in the P. V. C. last season.

Franklin at the West Virginia School for the Deaf rounds out today's league card, meeting at Romney at 2:30 p. m.

Petersburg's Vikings, winless in three outings, play host to the Charles Town Panthers at 2 p. m., Circleville's Indians visit Green Bank and Berkeley Springs invades Virginia to meet Clarke County High at Berryville.

In Garrett county, Northern High's Huskies (1-1) entertain Terra Alta High School of Preston county at 1 p. m.

Hahnmen At Frederick

In another nocturnal contest, Bill Hahn's Wheaton High gridders tackle the Frederick High Cadets at Frederick.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE CHAMPIONS — Midland's Old Exports, managed by Frank I. Buskirk, Jr., of Frostburg, have gone all the way in the Twilight Baseball League by winning the pennant and playoff title. Each team will play a schedule of six league games.

The Rev. Regis Larkin, assistant pastor of St. Michael's Church, Frostburg, has been appointed C. Y. O. director for Western Maryland. Father Larkin announces that CYO athletic activities will be conducted on a statewide basis with the Allegany county competing in Baltimore for state honors. This will become effective with the 1962-63 basketball season as other sections of the state do not have football leagues.

Detroit Shortens Rope On Twins Flag Chances

Tigers Ring Up 5-1 Win; Yanks' Magic Number Is Four

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) —Minnesota handed Detroit three unearned runs in the first inning, and that was all right-handers Phil Regan and Terry Fox needed to subdue the Twins 5-1 on eight hits Thursday.

The outcome pushed the idle New York Yankees a notch closer to clinching another American League pennant.

Magic number for the Bombers to wrap it up is now four, with the Twins trailing by 4½ games. The Yankees have eight games left, the Twins seven.

Al Kaline helped Regan further shorten the rope on Minnesota's dim pennant chances. He slashed three hits, including his 28th home run — a one-season personal high for the classy Tiger outfielder.

Norm Cash also had a big hit, singling home two runs in the first inning burst from which the Twins never recovered.

Regan (11-9) thwarted seperal early Minnesota threats with clutch pitching. He struck out one and walked four. Fox relieved Regan in the ninth after two singles and protected the victory retiring three men in order.

Patriots, Denver Battle Heads AFL Schedule Sunday

BOSTON (UPI) — A collision between the league's hottest teams and a rematch of the annual championship playoff headline a full four-game American Football League program this weekend.

The Boston Patriots, upset winners over the defending Houston Oilers last Sunday, kick off the third round of games by hosting the surprisingly unbeaten Denver Broncos Friday night.

The weekend's real feature, however, sends the suddenly shaky Oilers to San Diego to face the same Chargers they have beaten twice in as many AFL title playoffs. The Chargers are favored by eight points.

In a single Saturday night game, the New York Titans are six-point underdogs while visiting winless Buffalo. On Sunday, the Dallas Texans are ten point picks at Oakland.

Funeral Of Texas Gridder Set Today

HOUSTON (UPI) — Reggie Grob, 19, the second Southwest Conference football player to die this month from heat stroke, will be buried Friday.

The University of Texas football squad and Longhorn coaches will go to Houston for the sophomore guard's funeral.

Grob suffered a heat stroke Sept. 1, the first day of football practice. He died Tuesday in Dallas from liver failure, one of several complications brought on by the heat stroke.

Yesterday, the Spring Branch High School, Grob's alma mater, renamed its football stadium in memory of Grob. Grob's younger brother, Charles, may play in Reggie Grob Stadium. Charles is on the junior varsity football squad at Spring Branch.

Washington Board Will Decide Fate Of Mickey Vernon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Whether Mickey Vernon will return as manager of the Washington Senators in 1963 probably will be decided Friday afternoon at a meeting of the 10-man board of directors of the last-place American League club.

While Gen. Elwood P. Quesada, chairman of the board, insists "it's going to be a routine quarterly meeting with no official announcement," reliable sources close to the club insist the decision on Vernon will be made with the verdict made public later in the year.

It is expected that General Manager Ed Doherty will be retained and Vernon will not be rehired. Gen. Quesada also is expected to receive "a vote of confidence" from the board.

The Senators, deeply entrenched in last place, have a record of 58 wins and 97 defeats. In 1961, Vernon's first year as Washington manager, the Senators finished in a last-place tie with Kansas City.

Washington Board Will Decide Fate Of Mickey Vernon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Whether Mickey Vernon will return as manager of the Washington Senators in 1963 probably will be decided Friday afternoon at a meeting of the 10-man board of directors of the last-place American League club.

While Gen. Elwood P. Quesada, chairman of the board, insists "it's going to be a routine quarterly meeting with no official announcement," reliable sources close to the club insist the decision on Vernon will be made with the verdict made public later in the year.

It is expected that General Manager Ed Doherty will be retained and Vernon will not be rehired. Gen. Quesada also is expected to receive "a vote of confidence" from the board.

The Senators, deeply entrenched in last place, have a record of 58 wins and 97 defeats. In 1961, Vernon's first year as Washington manager, the Senators finished in a last-place tie with Kansas City.

Midland Old Exports Cop Playoff Championship In Twilight League

Allen Defeats Westernport By 6-3 Score

Winners Also Copped Regular Season Pennant

Midland's Old Exports, winners of the regular season championship in the Twilight Baseball League, secured the playoff title yesterday by beating Westernport, 6-3, in the completion of a darkness-halted game which was started on Tuesday at Westernport.

Twilight Baseball League Champions

Year	Pennant	Playoffs
1962	Midland	Midland
1961	Barton	Westernport
1960	Barton	Lonaconing
1959	Barton	Lonaconing
1958	Barton	Barton
1957	Barton	Barton

The victory was the third in four games for manager Frank Buskirk's club in the post-season best-of-five series. They won the first two by 6-4 and 5-3 scores before losing the third, 10-4.

First Since 1958

By sweeping the regular season pennant as well as the playoff title, the Old Exports became the first team since 1958 to pull off such a feat. Barton won both crowns in 1957, the year of the sandlot circuit's inception, and again in 1958.

The Midland nine finished the '62 season with a record of 24 wins and seven defeats, then swept a air of games from Barton in the semi-finals. Westernport fourth place finishers with an 18-11 mark, advanced to the finals by taking two of three games from second place Keyser.

Yesterday the teams resumed action in the top of the fifth inning with Midland in front, 3-1. A home run by Fay Often in the top of the sixth gave the Exports a 5-1 edge that Westernport was unable to overcome.

Often Hitting Star

Often pounded a single in addition to his homer, and Joe Rogish had a pair of singles for the winners, who collected eight hits off four different Westernport pitchers. Charley Barnard, who started for the home team, suffered the loss.

Francis Allen went the distance for the Old Exports and scattered five hits—all singles—in picking up his ninth win against only two losses. Allen mowed down nine batters via the strikeout route.

Nicklaus Sets Pace With 64 At Portland

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus fired an eight-under-par 64 Thursday to lead the first round of the $25,000 Portland Open golf tournament—two strokes ahead of three-time winner Bill Casper of Apple Valley, Calif.

Only one stroke behind the leader was Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif. Nicklaus shot a 31-33 on the plush Columbia-Edgewater Country Club course, which he described as slightly easier than the average course he has played on this year.

Nicklaus, the top challenger to Casper's three-year reign as Portland Open king, hit all 18 greens. His card showed eight birdies and 10 pars. He sank putts ranging from six to 15 feet for his birdies.

Tied with Casper in third place was Bob Rosburg, now playing out of Portland.

Tied with Casper in third place was Bob Rosburg, now playing out of Portland.

Six pros were tied at 67. They were Don Massengale, Jacksboro, Tex.; Bob Harrison, Pacific Palisades, Calif.; Larry Mowry, Bonita, Calif.; Ron Weber, Bayside, Calif.; Bill Eggers, Henderson, Nev., and George Bayer, Miami, Fla.

Ten players were bunched at 68.

The field will be cut to 70 low pros and ties and nine amateurs after Friday. The final round will consist of 60 low pros and ties and the amateurs.

Miller Is Finalist In Maplehurst Golf

Charley Miller, five-times winner of the fall golf title at the Maplehurst Country Club, advanced to the finals of the championship flight in the current tourney by defeating Rex Beck, 5 and 4 yesterday.

Miller's opponent will be the winner of the Harry Deahl-Bill Fisher match.

In the first flight, Miller Bowen became a finalist by downing Al Via, 1 up on the 18th. Bowen will oppose Paul Moulden, who defeated Bob Porter, 6 and 5.

Jim Evans won over Bill Purcell in a second flight match, 2 and 1.

Billy Joe Patton Shoots Precision Golf To Enter Semi-Finals In U. S. Amateur

Plays Oklahoman Today; Tourney Favorite Beaten

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

PINEHURST, N. C. (UPI) — Billy Joe Patton, a 40-year-old Carolinian who was playing golf before his rivals were born, walloped precision shots unmatched in his storied past Thursday to lead three youngsters into the semifinals of the U.S. Amateur championship.

Patton, a long-time scrambler who never had gone beyond the fourth round in a dozen previous attempts, employed a newfound precision to brush aside Jim Gabrielsen, a University of Georgia star just half his age, 7 and 6.

That put him into Friday's 36-hole semifinals against Labron Harris Jr., 20-year-old Oklahoma State student who scored an upset 2 and 1 decision over Homero Blancas of Houston, the tournament favorite after defeating former champion Deane Beman.

Air Force Lieutenant Charles Coody, 25-year-old TCU graduate from Fort Worth, entered the other semifinal against Downing Gray 24-year-old Pensacola, Fla., insurance man. Coody beat Bill Newcomb, 21, of Kokomo, Ind., 2 up, while Gray bested Paul Desjardins of Miami, 1 up.

But the man of the hour in the Carolina pines and sandhill country was Billy Joe, the husky guy who eight years ago finished third to Sam Snead and Ben Hogan in the Masters and that same year was the first round leader in the U.S. Open only to finish in a tie for sixth.

Because the Morganton, N.C., lumber man ate up Gabrielsen, slamming out a 5 up lead on an even par 36 for the front side while young Jim took 41 blows. And then Billy Joe administered the coup de grace with birdies on the 10th and 11th holes.

Harris Displays Courage

Harris displayed his class and courage in his victory over the swarthy Blancas. For the young mathematics wizard who is studying at Oklahoma State for his masters, was one down at the turn against the favored Blancas. Harris evened it up on the 10th hole when he wedged from sand and grass in the rough to within six feet and knocked it home for a birdie. He went 1 up on the 14th where Blancas trapped his approach to bogey and then put it away on the 16th hole when he dropped a seven foot birdie putt.

In the morning round, as the field was reduced to eight, the 24-year-old Blancas had to hold on grimly to score a 1 up triumph over 18-year-old Dave Marad of Milton, Mass.

The bespectacled Harris moved into the quarterfinals against Blancas when he edged two-time public links champion Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., on the 21st hole.

Patton Rallied In Morning

Patton had to rally in his morning match to catch John McKey of Orlando, Fla., a 19-year-old Duke sophomore. One down at the turn with a 38 to McKey's 37, Billy Joe won four holes on the back side with pars as McKey buckled under the pressure.

Gabrielsen had a breeze against Bob Littler, 19, of Athens, Ohio. Out in even par 36, he was 6 up at the turn against Littler's 42 and then coasted home, 5 and 4.

Coody shot two over par golf in a 3 and 2 victory over Bob Allen, 38-year-old West Hartford, Conn., salesman.

Newcomb fired a 2 up triumph over Tony Cullinane, a Washington mortgage broker, despite the fact that he shot a 78.

Desjardins also had to stage a comeback before posting his 2 and 1 morning victory over burly Charlie Smith, a Gastonia, N.C. automobile dealer.

Gray also ignored the pressure of his first amateur in scoring a 3 and 2 win over Jim Colbert of Prairie Village, Kan.

Little Brown Jug Race Won By Lehigh Hanover

Dancer Has Victor, Beats Coffee Break And Earns $27,764

DELAWARE, Ohio (UPI) — Lehigh Hanover, a handsome bay New Jersey colt who had trailed in the glamour races this season, Thursday won the rich Little Brown Jug with two exciting victories over the favored Coffee Break.

The bay son of Adios out of Lucine Hanover from the Lehigh Stable in New Egypt, N.J., twice came from behind to break the magic two-minute mile in winning his two heats to take the 17th renewal of the grand circuit classic for three-year-old pacers.

Dancer In Sulky

With the veteran Stanley Dancer getting "just the race I wanted" out of his colt, Lehigh came from fourth in the last quarter of the first head to beat Coffee Break by a length and a quarter in 1:58 4-5, just a fifth of a second off the Jug and world record for 3-year-olds.

Again in his next heat Dancer's colt was in the middle of the pack as the exceptionally fast field headed for the home stretch. He came around on the outside and passed Coffee Break and Meadow Battles to win in a photo finish. His time was 1:59 3-5.

The victory was worth $27,764.34 and boosted the horse's earnings for two seasons to $191,835.

Gamecock Is Second

Gamecock, owned jointly by L. B. Sheppard of Hanover, Pa., and Cleo Young of Timmonsville, S. C., finished second. He won his first heat in 2:01 1-5, but broke gait on the first turn of the half-mile track and finished eighth in the final heat.

Coffee Break, the Ohio beauty owned by the C. & M. Stable of Archbold, Ohio, was placed third on the basis of his two second place finishes.

Mets Defeated Twice By Colts

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Houston Colts swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets, 7-2 and 5-4 in 12 innings, Thursday to plunge the hapless New Yorkers into a tie with the 1935 Boston Braves as the losingest team in National League history with 115 defeats.

Bob Aspromonte's league record for errorless games by a third baseman was snapped at 57 in the eighth inning of the first game. The Colts' third baseman handled a total of 149 chances successfully before his bobble. Aspromonte also made an error in the second game while playing shortstop.

Pirates Rally In Ninth, Win Over Reds, 4-3

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Rookie Bob Bailey's two-run double capped a three-run ninth inning rally Thursday night that carried the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Bailey's hit scored pinch-runner Don Hoak and Donn Clendenon, who reached first base safely when third baseman Eddie Kasko fumbled his grounder allowing Dick Groat to score the Pirates first run of the inning.

Bob Purkey appeared headed for his 23rd victory of the year when Groat led off the ninth with a single and Bob Skinner drew a walk. Bill Henry replaced Purkey and struck out Willie Stargell and Bill Mazeroski.

The Pirates got a life when Kasko committed the error on Clendenon's blow.

Cincinnati scored one run in the third on a walk and two singles. A single, three bases on ball and an error gave the Reds two more runs in the sixth.

Skinner doubled and Stargell tripled in the fourth for the Pirates' first run.

Romano Gets Three RBIs For Indians

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Cleveland's John Romano drove in three runs with a home run and pair of sacrifice flies Thursday and battery-mate Pete Ramos pitched five-hit ball to pace a 5-2 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Bill Fischer extended his major league walkless innings record to 73, but the Indians combed him for nine hits in four innings.

The Indians added two quick runs in the first on three hits and a sacrifice fly. Tito Francona, Chuck Essegian and rookie Walt Bond opened the game with consecutive singles.

Norm Siebern singled in the eighth inning to drive in his 111th run of the season.

Weatherly Trims Gretel In Yacht Race

U.S. Takes 2-1 Lead, 4th Test Saturday

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—Skipper Mosbacher took Weatherly out to sail Thursday in the light breezes she likes best and the U.S. defender just glided away from Australia's Gretel in the third race of the America's Cup series.

The victory gave Weatherly a 2-1 lead in this best four out of seven competition for yachting supremacy.

Jock Sturrock and his crew on Gretel were about a mile back as the blue-hulled American 12 meter sloop came over the finish line before the smallest spectator fleet crowd yet—only about 150 boats.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy was out for the whole race, watching from the destroyer USS Joseph P. Kennedy Jr.

Weatherly won by the margin of eight minutes and 40 seconds. It took four hours, 21 minutes and 16 seconds for her to complete the 24-mile course of four six-mile legs.

Gretel Satrts Well

Gretel got off to a far better start than Mosbacher who is supposed to be the champ at starting. But that was the only time the Aussie was ahead all day.

The wind told the story. It dropped down to only about three knots at one time and never got above 10. Under those conditions, Gretel doesn't move fast-Weatherly does.

After Thursday's race, Gretel signalled that she did not want to race Friday. That means the fourth encounter will come at noon Saturday. The Aussies no doubt were hoping for stronger winds by then.

Midland Old Exports Cop Playoff Championship In Twilight League

Allen Defeats Westernport By 6-3 Score

Winners Also Copped Regular Season Pennant

Midland's Old Exports, winners of the regular season championship in the Twilight Baseball League, secured the playoff title yesterday by beating Westernport, 6-3, in the completion of a darkness-halted game which was started on Tuesday at Westernport.

Twilight Baseball League Champions

Year	Pennant	Playoffs
1962	Midland	Midland
1961	Barton	Westernport
1960	Barton	Lonaconing
1959	Barton	Lonaconing
1958	Barton	Barton
1957	Barton	Barton

The victory was the third in four games for manager Frank Buskirk's club in the post-season best-of-five series. They won the first two by 6-4 and 5-3 scores before losing the third, 10-4.

First Since 1958

By sweeping the regular season pennant as well as the playoff title, the Old Exports became the first team since 1958 to pull off such a feat. Barton won both crowns in 1957, the year of the sandlot circuit's inception, and again in 1958.

The Midland nine finished the '62 season with a record of 24 wins and seven defeats, then swept a air of games from Barton in the semi-finals. Westernport fourth place finishers with an 18-11 mark, advanced to the finals by taking two of three games from second place Keyser.

Yesterday the teams resumed action in the top of the fifth inning with Midland in front, 3-1. A home run by Fay Often in the top of the sixth gave the Exports a 5-1 edge that Westernport was unable to overcome.

Often Hitting Star

Often pounded a single in addition to his homer, and Joe Rogish had a pair of singles for the winners, who collected eight hits off four different Westernport pitchers. Charley Barnard, who started for the home team, suffered the loss.

Francis Allen went the distance for the Old Exports and scattered five hits—all singles—in picking up his ninth win against only two losses. Allen mowed down nine batters via the strikeout route.

Nicklaus Sets Pace With 64 At Portland

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus fired an eight-under-par 64 Thursday to lead the first round of the $25,000 Portland Open golf tournament—two strokes ahead of three-time winner Bill Casper of Apple Valley, Calif.

Only one stroke behind the leader was Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif. Nicklaus shot a 31-33 on the plush Columbia-Edgewater Country Club course, which he described as slightly easier than the average course he has played on this year.

Nicklaus, the top challenger to Casper's three-year reign as Portland Open king, hit all 18 greens. His card showed eight birdies and 10 pars. He sank putts ranging from six to 15 feet for his birdies.

Tied with Casper in third place was Bob Rosburg, now playing out of Portland.

Tied with Casper in third place was Bob Rosburg, now playing out of Portland.

Six pros were tied at 67. They were Don Massengale, Jacksboro, Tex.; Bob Harrison, Pacific Palisades, Calif.; Larry Mowry, Bonita, Calif.; Ron Weber, Bayside, Calif.; Bill Eggers, Henderson, Nev., and George Bayer, Miami, Fla.

Ten players were bunched at 68.

The field will be cut to 70 low pros and ties and nine amateurs after Friday. The final round will consist of 60 low pros and ties and the amateurs.

Miller Is Finalist In Maplehurst Golf

Charley Miller, five-times winner of the fall golf title at the Maplehurst Country Club, advanced to the finals of the championship flight in the current tourney by defeating Rex Beck, 5 and 4 yesterday.

Miller's opponent will be the winner of the Harry Deahl-Bill Fisher match.

In the first flight, Miller Bowen became a finalist by downing Al Via, 1 up on the 18th. Bowen will oppose Paul Moulden, who defeated Bob Porter, 6 and 5.

Jim Evans won over Bill Purcell in a second flight match, 2 and 1.

Billy Joe Patton Shoots Precision Golf To Enter Semi-Finals In U. S. Amateur

Plays Oklahoman Today; Tourney Favorite Beaten

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

PINEHURST, N. C. (UPI) — Billy Joe Patton, a 40-year-old Carolinian who was playing golf before his rivals were born, walloped precision shots unmatched in his storied past Thursday to lead three youngsters into the semifinals of the U.S. Amateur championship.

Patton, a long-time scrambler who never had gone beyond the fourth round in a dozen previous attempts, employed a newfound precision to brush aside Jim Gabrielsen, a University of Georgia star just half his age, 7 and 6.

That put him into Friday's 36-hole semifinals against Labron Harris Jr., 20-year-old Oklahoma State student who scored an upset 2 and 1 decision over Homero Blancas of Houston, the tournament favorite after defeating former champion Deane Beman.

Air Force Lieutenant Charles Coody, 25-year-old TCU graduate from Fort Worth, entered the other semifinal against Downing Gray 24-year-old Pensacola, Fla., insurance man. Coody beat Bill Newcomb, 21, of Kokomo, Ind., 2 up, while Gray bested Paul Desjardins of Miami, 1 up.

But the man of the hour in the Carolina pines and sandhill country was Billy Joe, the husky guy who eight years ago finished third to Sam Snead and Ben Hogan in the Masters and that same year was the first round leader in the U.S. Open only to finish in a tie for sixth.

Because the Morganton, N.C., lumber man ate up Gabrielsen, slamming out a 5 up lead on an even par 36 for the front side while young Jim took 41 blows. And then Billy Joe administered the coup de grace with birdies on the 10th and 11th holes.

Harris Displays Courage

Harris displayed his class and courage in his victory over the swarthy Blancas. For the young mathematics wizard who is studying at Oklahoma State for his masters, was one down at the turn against the favored Blancas.

Harris evened it up on the 10th hole when he wedged from sand and grass in the rough to within six feet and knocked it home for a birdie. He went 1 up on the 14th where Blancas trapped his approach to bogey and then put it away on the 16th hole when he dropped a seven foot birdie putt.

In the morning round, as the field was reduced to eight, the 24-year-old Blancas had to hold on grimly to score a 1 up triumph over 18-year-old Dave Marad of Milton, Mass.

The bespectacled Harris moved into the quarterfinals against Blancas when he edged two-time public links champion Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., on the 21st hole.

Patton Rallied In Morning

Patton had to rally in his morning match to catch John McKey of Orlando, Fla., a 19-year-old Duke sophomore. One down at the turn with a 38 to McKey's 37, Billy Joe won four holes on the back side with pars as McKey buckled under the pressure.

Gabrielsen had a breeze against Bob Littler, 19, of Athens, Ohio. Out in even par 36, he was 6 up at the turn against Littler's 42 and then coasted home, 5 and 4.

Coody shot two over par golf in a 3 and 2 victory over Bob Allen, 38-year-old West Hartford, Conn., salesman.

Newcomb fired a 2 up triumph over Tony Cullinane, a Washington mortgage broker, despite the fact that he shot a 78.

Desjardins also had to stage a comeback before posting his 2 and 1 morning victory over burly Charlie Smith, a Gastonia, N.C. automobile dealer.

Gray also ignored the pressure of his first amateur in scoring a 3 and 2 win over Jim Colbert of Prairie Village, Kan.

Little Brown Jug Race Won By Lehigh Hanover

Dancer Has Victor, Beats Coffee Break And Earns $27,764

DELAWARE, Ohio (UPI) — Lehigh Hanover, a handsome bay New Jersey colt who had trailed in the glamour races this season, Thursday won the rich Little Brown Jug with two exciting victories over the favored Coffee Break.

The bay son of Adios out of Lucine Hanover from the Lehigh Stable in New Egypt, N.J., twice came from behind to break the magic two-minute mile in winning his two heats to take the 17th renewal of the grand circuit classic for three-year-old pacers.

Dancer In Sulky

With the veteran Stanley Dancer getting "just the race I wanted" out of his colt, Lehigh came from fourth in the last quarter of the first head to beat Coffee Break by a length and a quarter in 1:58 4-5, just a fifth of a second off the Jug and world record for 3-year-olds.

Again in his next heat Dancer's colt was in the middle of the pack as the exceptionally fast field headed for the home stretch. He came around on the outside and passed Coffee Break and Meadow Battles to win in a photo finish. His time was 1:59 3-5.

The victory was worth $27,764.34 and boosted the horse's earnings for two seasons to $191,835.

Gamecock Is Second

Gamecock, owned jointly by L. B. Sheppard of Hanover, Pa., and Cleo Young of Timmonsville, S. C., finished second. He won his first heat in 2:01 1-5, but broke gait on the first turn of the half-mile track and finished eighth in the final heat.

Coffee Break, the Ohio beauty owned by the C. & M. Stable of Archbold, Ohio, was placed third on the basis of his two second place finishes.

Mets Defeated Twice By Colts

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Houston Colts swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets, 7-2 and 5-4 in 12 innings, Thursday to plunge the hapless New Yorkers into a tie with the 1935 Boston Braves as the losingest team in National League history with 115 defeats.

Bob Aspromonte's league record for errorless games by a third baseman was snapped at 57 in the eighth inning of the first game. The Colts' third baseman handled a total of 149 chances successfully before his bobble. Aspromonte also made an error in the second game while playing shortstop.

Pirates Rally In Ninth, Win Over Reds, 4-3

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Rookie Bob Bailey's two-run double capped a three-run ninth inning rally Thursday night that carried the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Bailey's hit scored pinch-runner Don Hoak and Donn Clendenon, who reached first base safely when third baseman Eddie Kasko fumbled his grounder allowing Dick Groat to score the Pirates first run of the inning.

Bob Purkey appeared headed for his 23rd victory of the year when Groat led off the ninth with a single and Bob Skinner drew a walk. Bill Henry replaced Purkey and struck out Willie Stargell and Bill Mazeroski.

The Pirates got a life when Kasko committed the error on Clendenon's blow.

Cincinnati scored one run in the third on a walk and two singles. A single, three bases on ball and an error gave the Reds two more runs in the sixth.

Skinner doubled and Stargell tripled in the fourth for the Pirates' first run.

Romano Gets Three RBIs For Indians

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Cleveland's John Romano drove in three runs with a home run and pair of sacrifice flies Thursday and battery-mate Pete Ramos pitched five-hit ball to pace a 5-2 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Bill Fischer extended his major league walkless innings record to 73, but the Indians combed him for nine hits in four innings.

The Indians added two quick runs in the first on three hits and a sacrifice fly. Tito Francona, Chuck Essegian and rookie Walt Bond opened the game with consecutive singles.

Jerry Lumpe of the Athletics went hitless in three at bats, which broke his hitting streak at 20 games.

Weatherly Trims Gretel In Yacht Race

U.S. Takes 2-1 Lead, 4th Test Saturday

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—Skipper Mosbacher took Weatherly out to sail Thursday in the light breezes she likes best and the U.S. defender just glided away from Australia's Gretel in the third race of the America's Cup series.

The victory gave Weatherly a 2-1 lead in this best four out of seven competition for yachting supremacy.

Jock Sturrock and his crew on Gretel were about a mile back as the blue-hulled American 12 meter sloop came over the finish line before the smallest spectator fleet crowd yet—only about 150 boats.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy was out for the whole race, watching from the destroyer USS Joseph P. Kennedy Jr.

Weatherly won by the margin of eight minutes and 40 seconds. It took four hours, 21 minutes and 16 seconds for her to complete the 24-mile course of four six-mile legs.

Gretel Satrts Well

Gretel got off to a far better start than Mosbacher who is supposed to be the champ at starting. But that was the only time the Aussie was ahead all day.

The wind told the story. It dropped down to only about three knots at one time and never got above 10. Under those conditions, Gretel doesn't move fast-Weatherly does.

After Thursday's race, Gretel signalled that she did not want to race Friday. That means the fourth encounter will come at noon Saturday. The Aussies no doubt were hoping for stronger winds by then.

Small Proposes Two Changes In Sales Tax Base

Would Eliminate Levy On Meals

By The Associated Press

Frank Small Jr., Republican candidate for governor, proposed Thursday the elimination of sales taxes on purchases less than $1 and on all restaurant meals.

"This tax is burdensome and unnecessary," Small said in a talk prepared for the Middle Patuxent Community Association at Clarksville in Howard County.

Small claimed that the revenue surplus compiled by the administration of Democratic Gov. Tawes "is ample evidence that this tax could be cut."

Small said Tawes dropped the starting point of the sales tax from 50 to 25 cents and imposed it on restaurant meals costing more than $1 last year, while "knocking down wage raise requests by the state teachers, State Police and other state employes."

Tawes has defended his action repeatedly by pointing out that all of the increased sales tax revenue was redistributed to the 23 counties and Baltimore City.

In a separate statement Thursday, Small said recent action by the Maryland Health Department in Montgomery County "typifies the inaction of the Tawes administration over pressing problems."

"Absurd" Excuse, Says Small

Small said the health department, after investigating complaints of faulty septic tanks and wells in Montgomery, admitted that "health violations are being violated throughout the state, but they said they did not have sufficient money or manpower to do anything about it."

Small called this absurd because the health department turned back half a million dollars of the money appropriated to it during the last fiscal year.

"They seem to take this problem very calmly, in spite of the fact that reports have been sent to the State Health Department disclosing that cases of infectious hepatitis increased a thousand per cent in the past two years," Small said the Montgomery situation.

Small charged that health department officials "whitewashed the entire situation" because they "don't want to rock the boat."

"Non - Political" Stand

On another gubernatorial front, a spokesman for Gov. Tawes said that if he had wanted to follow a politically expedient course he would not have changed his position on slot machines.

"The Republican gubernatorial candidate's own position that the issue of slot machines in Maryland should be settled locally provided the governor with an excellent opportunity to remain silent," stated Herbert R. O'Conor Jr., campaign manager for the Democrats.

"Nevertheless, the governor decided that the elimination of slot machines from Maryland was in the best interests of all citizens and announced his decision in the face of and not in deference to the political hazards involved.

"This is not the first time that Gov. Tawes has challenged entrenched elements in Maryland in order to promote the welfare of the citizens of this state."

O'Conor mentioned Tawes' past support for a new Baltimore municipal court, reapportionment and regulation of savings and loan associations although "all of them were opposed by strong political elements."

A Complaint

In Baltimore a Republican Congressional hopeful criticized the Baltimore County school board for scheduling two Democratic candidates as speakers at a teachers' meeting Friday.

J. Fife Symington charged the Board of Education with "utilizing our public school system for political purposes." Symington said he was shocked that the board would allow his opponent to speak on any subject during a political campaign.

A spokesman for the school board confirmed that two Democratic candidates are scheduled to speak but said there would be no political implications in the speeches.

The candidates scheduled to talk are Symington's opponent in the second district race for Congress, Dr. Clarence Long, and Rep. Daniel Brewster, Democratic nominee for U.S. Senate.

Long is scheduled to speak on the nation's present economic policies and Brewster will speak on plans for space exploration.

Children will have the day off while their teachers attend the series of meetings throughout the county. About 100 of the county's 4,000 teachers will attend the meeting at Arbutus Junior High School, where Long and Brewster are scheduled to speak.

Speakers at the other 28 meetings on curriculum study will come from colleges and universities in Maryland, the school spokesman said.

The spokesman said Long and Brewster had been chosen for their special knowledge on the subject of their talks.

WILLIAM G. KIGHT

Third Kight Is Graduate Embalmer

William G. Kight, 19, of 309 Decatur Street, will be graduated today from the Cincinnati College of Embalming following completion of the 12-month required course.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Kight, he was born in Cumberland July 18, 1943. He is now registered as an apprentice funeral director and embalmer at the Kight Funeral Home and thereby becomes the third generation active in the funeral field along with his grandfather, William H. Kight, and his father, Byron Kight.

The elder Mr. Kight entered the funeral field in 1905 at Elk Garden, W. Va. and became affiliated with the Butler Funeral Home in Cumberland in 1925. Following the death of G. Stanley Butler, the firm was purchased by William H. and Byron Kight in 1939 and was moved to its present Decatur Street location in 1942.

The third generation Kight was graduated from Allegany High School in 1961. He is a member of Centre Street Methodist Church, Order of DeMolay and the Safe-Teen Club, which he served as vice president.

No Polio Here Since Sabin Vaccine Given

A U.S. Health Department recommendation has stalled further use of Type III Sabine polio vaccine in Maryland, but 39,088 persons in Allegany County took it last year and the record is unblemished.

The Maryland Health Department endorsed Thursday plans to go ahead with vaccinations in October and November with the other two types of Sabine vaccine. But use of Type III was postponed because some adults in other places have developed polio after taking it.

The record in Allegany County would not substantiate any doubts about Type III. A survey of local physicians Thursday showed that not one of the 39,088 persons taking the vaccine last May had any ill effects.

All three types of the vaccine were administered during vaccination tests in Allegany County which began in June, 1961.

Since the widespread polio vaccinations began, Allegany County has been free of infantile paralysis — the first time in nearly a decade.

The Allegany - Garrett County Medical Society sponsored the distribution of 38,177 doses of Type I in the summer of 1961 and another 41,895 doses of Type II in the fall, in addition to the persons who took Type III.

The health departments in Baltimore city and many of the counties will offer the first two types of the vaccine free this fall, but recipients will be asked to contribute 25 cents. A few drops of the vaccine are put into water and administered orally.

Constitutional Issue Raised In Redistricting

Referendum Right Violation Charged

PRINCE FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—Opponents of reapportionment argued Thursday that the way Maryland's redistricting bill was passed last May could set a precedent for thwarting the constitutional right of referendum.

Attorneys for two Calvert County taxpayers filed a brief which said passage of the reapportionment bill minutes before the constitutional deadline for submitting referendum petitions was a "gross mistreatment of their constitutional rights."

The brief was filed in support of a suit to block the addition of 19 more seats to the house of Delegates by the General Assembly in its special session last May.

Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan asked the Calvert County Circuit Court Wednesday to dismiss the suit. He claimed the court did not have jurisdiction.

Dels. Elroy G. Boyer, D-Kent, and Richard M. Matthews, D-Dorchester, and Harry T. Phoebus Jr. and Perry Bowen argued in their brief that the Prince Frederick court was the proper place to hear the case.

They contended that passage of the reapportionment measure at 11:35 p. m. May 31 was a constitutional tragedy because it deprived opponents of a chance to print petitions and obtain 5,000 signatures by midnight the following day.

The opponents argued that passage of the reapportionment bill in this manner sets a dangerous precedent because the legislature could thwart the right of referendum by enacting other controversial legislation on succeeding May 31's.

"Since the constitution of Maryland guarantees to its people the right of referendum, how can it be accomplished without allowing a reasonable time to prepare and submit a proper petition?" the brief asked.

Oral arguments on the state's motion for dismissal will start Monday morning.

Junior Colleges Could Have Used Some Aid Funds

Dr. Robert S. Zimmer, president of Allegany Community College, commented last night that the compromise $2.3 billion college aid bill, which was voted down last night by the House of Representatives, would have provided $250,000,000 for junior college construction over the next five years.

As prosposed, there would have been $50,000,000 a year for five years for junior college construction, land and related services. It had been predicted that Maryland would have received about $800,000 a year of $4,000,000 in five years for junior college construction.

The bill was killed in the House by a roll call vote of 214 to 186. By that margin the House voted to send the higher education bill back to a House-Senate conference committee. Because of wide disagreement over student loans and grants, there appeared to be no chance of a new compromise acceptable to both chambers.

A chicken barbecue is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. The program will be a tour of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Plant at 8 p.m.

Fire Prevention Week Scheduled October 7-13

The Cumberland Fire Department has started plans for the annual Fire Prevention Week campaign which this year will be held October 7-13, said Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker.

During the first week in October posters will be distributed by members of Troop 4, Boy Scouts, sponsored by the Centre Street Methodist Church. Scoutmaster is George Searlett.

In charge of the campaign here is Assistant Fire Chief Vincent H. Wegman who is being assisted by Fire Inspector John E. Trost.

Chief Parker said all schools in the city will be visited in connection with the annual campaign which is focused on preventing fires which can cost lives and heavy property damage.

Literature pertaining to fire prevention will be dropped off at the schools, according to Chief Parker, who said local hospitals and county institutions will also be checked for fire hazards.

Central fire station and the stations in South End, East Side and West Side will be open for inspection, he added.

Grim figures indicate that every 45 minutes, on the average, fire takes a human life in the United States. About 3,400 children die in fires each year in the nation, the chief said.

According to records compiled by the National Fire Protection Association, there were 169 instances last year when four or more members of a family were killed in a single sweep of fire through their homes. One hundred and fifty-three of the tragedies occurred in the United States, 16 in Canada.

Farmers Get Final Support Payments

Final payments to Allegany County farmers taking part in the 1962 wheat stabilization and feed grain program for corn, grain sorghum, and barley are now being made throughout the county, Bradye H. Dolly, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said yesterday.

On Tuesday, program payments already made in the county for diverting acreages from production into soil-conserving uses totaled $17,383.26, said Miss Elizabeth Hoover, manager of the local ASC office on Union Street.

As a means of helping farmers meet their production expenses and at the same time maintain their income, advance payments were made to some producers at the time they signified their intention of participating in the program.

Mr. Dolly reminded farmers that compliance with provisions of the diversion programs does not end with receipt of the final program payments. The land retired from production may not be grazed or a crop harvested from it through the whole year 1962, and it must be devoted to an approved conservation use, with all other program provisions being met fully.

A violation of program provisions, he said, could result in a substantial loss to the producer. Payments under the 1962 program are directed toward maintaining farmers' incomes during the period of adjusting production to more realistic levels.

The acreage reduction continues the trend started with the 1961 feed grain program to bring about a better balance between feed grain production and needs.

Miss Hoover pointed out yesterday there are 38 farmers participating in the wheat program in the county and 20 farmers in the corn and barley feed grain program.

Faulty Heater Blamed For Angler's Death

Roy Lee Harper, 54, of RFD 1, Artemas, Pa., died of accidental asphyxiation blamed on a faulty heater in his automobile.

Mr. Harper left his home Monday morning to go fishing before going to work with Lowengart and Company, Mercersburg, Pa., where he worked as a foreman spray machine operator.

When he did not report for work a search was started and he was found dead in his automobile Tuesday by his son, Luther. It is presumed that he became cold while fishing, got into the car to warm up and was overcome by carbon monoxide poisoning.

Bedford County Deputy Coroner Ralph Mickle has ruled that death was accidental from asphyxiation blamed on the carbon monoxide poisoning.

A funeral service will be conducted at 11 a.m. today at the Fairview Christian Church near Artemas with Rev. Walter Twigg officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Born April 10, 1908, at Whitmer, W. Va., he was a son of the late Charles Webster and Carrie Etta (Nelson) Harper. Surviving are his wife, the former Miss Katie A. CUF Campaign In High Gear; Leaders Pleased

67.2 Per Cent Of Goal Collected

The County United Fund campaign machinery, 1962 model, with general chairman Alvin H. Wilson behind the wheel, is beginning to accelerate rapidly and at least two factors are encouraging optimism on the part of campaign leaders.

As of yesterday, the Cumberland Golden Gifts Division of the sixth and biggest CUF drive reported that it already has attained 67.2 per cent of its goal—in less than three weeks.

Walter E. Dyck, manager of Works 7 of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, and Robert Hunter Jr., procurement administrator at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, said that $83,938 has been pledged by Golden Gifters.

The Golden Gifts goal is $125,000 for the Cumberland area.

Efforts Commended

Mr. Wilson, upon receiving the co-chairmen's report, commended the "fine efforts of the Golden Gifts Division leaders and workers" and urged them to continue "with as much drive and enthusiasm" over the rest of the route to victory.

The other measure of campaign success was the performance turned in by departments of the City of Cumberland and the fact that all reporting to date in the Classified Division drive have either matched their results of last year or have exceeded them.

John E. Geare and C. M. Sanner, Classified co-chairmen, said that the city finance department is leading all classified groups to date with a report of 164.2 per cent of last year's contribution.

The co-chairmen issued a "well-done" to the finance department and urged other classified groups to "Go Ye and do likewise."

Big Response In City

Right behind, in second place among city employe groups, is the engineering office with 160.6 per cent of its 1961 results.

Following in order are flood project maintenance, 140 per cent; Lake Gordon filtration plant, 124.3 per cent; sewage treatment plant, 114.7 per cent; water department, 111.5 per cent; city clerk's office, 102.4 per cent; mayor's office, 100 per cent; recreation department, 100 per cent, and CCSAC Federal Credit Union, 100 per cent.

Other classified employe groups have begun reporting success in their drives and Mr. Geare and Mr. Sanner said they both have increased their confidence that the $60,000 Classified goal will be exceeded.

96 New County Voters Register At Five Points

Simultaneous registration at five points in Allegany County yesterday added some 96 prospective new voters to the rolls, according to John R. Kelly, Democratic registrar and chief clerk of the County Board of Election Supervisors.

The Democrats got the edge yesterday, 52 to 44, primarily because of a strong showing at the Board of Election Supervisors' office in the Court House basement. There 32 Democrats and only 13 Republicans registered.

Other totals included 23 at Frostburg City Hall, 13 Republicans and 10 Democrats; 13 at Lonaconing City Hall, 12 Republicans and one Democrat; eight at Westernport City Hall, four Republicans and four Democrats, and seven at the Mt. Savage Community Building, two Republicans and five Democrats.

Today, the election board office at the Court House will open from 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. and from 6 until 9 p.m. The hours at the other four communities will be 1 until 5 p.m. and 6 until 8 p.m.

There will be registration at all five points again Saturday and Monday, the last two days to register in order to vote November 6.

No Polio Here Since Sabin Vaccine Given

A U.S. Health Department recommendation has stalled further use of Type III Sabine polio vaccine in Maryland, but 39,088 persons in Allegany County took it last year and the record is unblemished.

The Maryland Health Department endorsed Thursday plans to go ahead with vaccinations in October and November with the other two types of Sabine vaccine. But use of Type III was postponed because some adults in other places have developed polio after taking it.

The record in Allegany County would not substantiate any doubts about Type III. A survey of local physicians Thursday showed that not one of the 39,088 persons taking the vaccine last May had any ill effects.

All three types of the vaccine were administered during vaccination tests in Allegany County which began in June, 1961.

Since the widespread polio vaccinations began, Allegany County has been free of infantile paralysis — the first time in nearly a decade.

The Allegany - Garrett County Medical Society sponsored the distribution of 38,177 doses of Type I in the summer of 1961 and another 41,895 doses of Type II in the fall, in addition to the persons who took Type III.

The health departments in Baltimore city and many of the counties will offer the first two types of the vaccine free this fall, but recipients will be asked to contribute 25 cents. A few drops of the vaccine are put into water and administered orally.

Constitutional Issue Raised In Redistricting

Referendum Right Violation Charged

PRINCE FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—Opponents of reapportionment argued Thursday that the way Maryland's redistricting bill was passed last May could set a precedent for thwarting the constitutional right of referendum.

Attorneys for two Calvert County taxpayers filed a brief which said passage of the reapportionment bill minutes before the constitutional deadline for submitting referendum petitions was a "gross mistreatment of their constitutional rights."

The brief was filed in support of a suit to block the addition of 19 more seats to the house of Delegates by the General Assembly in its special session last May.

Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan asked the Calvert County Circuit Court Wednesday to dismiss the suit. He claimed the court did not have jurisdiction.

Dels. Elroy G. Boyer, D-Kent, and Richard M. Matthews, D-Dorchester, and Harry T. Phoebus Jr. and Perry Bowen argued in their brief that the Prince Frederick court was the proper place to hear the case.

They contended that passage of the reapportionment measure at 11:35 p. m. May 31 was a constitutional tragedy because it deprived opponents of a chance to print petitions and obtain 5,000 signatures by midnight the following day.

The opponents argued that passage of the reapportionment bill in this manner sets a dangerous precedent because the legislature could thwart the right of referendum by enacting other controversial legislation on succeeding May 31's.

"Since the constitution of Maryland guarantees to its people the right of referendum, how can it be accomplished without allowing a reasonable time to prepare and submit a proper petition?" the brief asked.

Oral arguments on the state's motion for dismissal will start Monday morning.

Junior Colleges Could Have Used Some Aid Funds

Dr. Robert S. Zimmer, president of Allegany Community College, commented last night that the compromise $2.3 billion college aid bill, which was voted down last night by the House of Representatives, would have provided $250,000,000 for junior college construction over the next five years.

As prosposed, there would have been $50,000,000 a year for five years for junior college construction, land and related services. It had been predicted that Maryland would have received about $800,000 a year of $4,000,000 in five years for junior college construction.

The bill was killed in the House by a roll call vote of 214 to 186. By that margin the House voted to send the higher education bill back to a House-Senate conference committee. Because of wide disagreement over student loans and grants, there appeared to be no chance of a new compromise acceptable to both chambers.

Fire Prevention Week Scheduled October 7-13

The Cumberland Fire Department has started plans for the annual Fire Prevention Week campaign which this year will be held October 7-13, said Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker.

During the first week in October posters will be distributed by members of Troop 4, Boy Scouts, sponsored by the Centre Street Methodist Church. Scoutmaster is George Searlett.

In charge of the campaign here is Assistant Fire Chief Vincent H. Wegman who is being assisted by Fire Inspector John E. Trost.

Chief Parker said all schools in the city will be visited in connection with the annual campaign which is focused on preventing fires which can cost lives and heavy property damage.

Literature pertaining to fire prevention will be dropped off at the schools, according to Chief Parker, who said local hospitals and county institutions will also be checked for fire hazards.

Central fire station and the stations in South End, East Side and West Side will be open for inspection, he added.

Grim figures indicate that every 45 minutes, on the average, fire takes a human life in the United States. About 3,400 children die in fires each year in the nation, the chief said.

According to records compiled by the National Fire Protection Association, there were 169 instances last year when four or more members of a family were killed in a single sweep of fire through their homes. One hundred and fifty-three of the tragedies occurred in the United States, 16 in Canada.

Farmers Get Final Support Payments

Final payments to Allegany County farmers taking part in the 1962 wheat stabilization and feed grain program for corn, grain sorghum, and barley are now being made throughout the county, Bradye H. Dolly, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said yesterday.

On Tuesday, program payments already made in the county for diverting acreages from production into soil-conserving uses totaled $17,383.26, said Miss Elizabeth Hoover, manager of the local ASC office on Union Street.

As a means of helping farmers meet their production expenses and at the same time maintain their income, advance payments were made to some producers at the time they signified their intention of participating in the program.

Mr. Dolly reminded farmers that compliance with provisions of the diversion programs does not end with receipt of the final program payments. The land retired from production may not be grazed or a crop harvested from it through the whole year 1962, and it must be devoted to an approved conservation use, with all other program provisions being met fully.

A violation of program provisions, he said, could result in a substantial loss to the producer. Payments under the 1962 program are directed toward maintaining farmers' incomes during the period of adjusting production to more realistic levels.

The acreage reduction continues the trend started with the 1961 feed grain program to bring about a better balance between feed grain production and needs.

Miss Hoover pointed out yesterday there are 38 farmers participating in the wheat program in the county and 20 farmers in the corn and barley feed grain program.

Faulty Heater Blamed For Angler's Death

Roy Lee Harper, 54, of RFD 1, Artemas, Pa., died of accidental asphyxiation blamed on a faulty heater in his automobile.

Mr. Harper left his home Monday morning to go fishing before going to work with Lowengart and Company, Mercersburg, Pa., where he worked as a foreman spray machine operator.

When he did not report for work a search was started and he was found dead in his automobile Tuesday by his son, Luther. It is presumed that he became cold while fishing, got into the car to warm up and was overcome by carbon monoxide poisoning.

Bedford County Deputy Coroner Ralph Mickle has ruled that death was accidental from asphyxiation blamed on the carbon monoxide poisoning.

A funeral service will be conducted at 11 a.m. today at the Fairview Christian Church near Artemas with Rev. Walter Twigg officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Born April 10, 1908, at Whitmer, W. Va., he was a son of the late Charles Webster and Carrie Etta (Nelson) Harper. Surviving are his wife, the former Miss Katie A. CUF Campaign In High Gear; Leaders Pleased

67.2 Per Cent Of Goal Collected

The County United Fund campaign machinery, 1962 model, with general chairman Alvin H. Wilson behind the wheel, is beginning to accelerate rapidly and at least two factors are encouraging optimism on the part of campaign leaders.

As of yesterday, the Cumberland Golden Gifts Division of the sixth and biggest CUF drive reported that it already has attained 67.2 per cent of its goal—in less than three weeks.

Walter E. Dyck, manager of Works 7 of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, and Robert Hunter Jr., procurement administrator at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, said that $83,938 has been pledged by Golden Gifters.

The Golden Gifts goal is $125,000 for the Cumberland area.

Efforts Commended

Mr. Wilson, upon receiving the co-chairmen's report, commended the "fine efforts of the Golden Gifts Division leaders and workers" and urged them to continue "with as much drive and enthusiasm" over the rest of the route to victory.

The other measure of campaign success was the performance turned in by departments of the City of Cumberland and the fact that all reporting to date in the Classified Division drive have either matched their results of last year or have exceeded them.

John E. Geare and C. M. Sanner, Classified co-chairmen, said that the city finance department is leading all classified groups to date with a report of 164.2 per cent of last year's contribution.

The co-chairmen issued a "well-done" to the finance department and urged other classified groups to "Go Ye and do likewise."

Big Response In City

Right behind, in second place among city employe groups, is the engineering office with 160.6 per cent of its 1961 results.

Following in order are flood project maintenance, 140 per cent; Lake Gordon filtration plant, 124.3 per cent; sewage treatment plant, 114.7 per cent; water department, 111.5 per cent; city clerk's office, 102.4 per cent; mayor's office, 100 per cent; recreation department, 100 per cent, and CCSAC Federal Credit Union, 100 per cent.

Other classified employe groups have begun reporting success in their drives and Mr. Geare and Mr. Sanner said they both have increased their confidence that the $60,000 Classified goal will be exceeded.

Simultaneous registration at five points in Allegany County yesterday added some 96 prospective new voters to the rolls, according to John R. Kelly, Democratic registrar and chief clerk of the County Board of Election Supervisors.
